SENATE VOTES TO CANCEL LEASES

POSITION IS TEMPORARY, MAJORITY DECIDES

Councilmen Hall, Horn Vote Against Selecting Assistant Engineer

Virgil B. Stone, for three years assistant city engineer in charge of right of way work, was appointed city manager this morning at the regular meeting of the City Council. The appointment was moved by Councilman Sam Davis and seconded by Councilman C. E. Kimlin. On the roll call Mayor Spencer Robinson, with Councilmen Davis and Kimlin voted aye and Councilmen Asa Hall and W. A. Horn voted in the negative.

The appointment was modified immediately after the vote by the passage of a resolution reading, "that it be the sense of this council that the appointment of V. B. Stone as city manager be of a temporary nature only."

Refuses to Vote

Councilmen Hall and Horn refused to vote on this resolution, but it was carried by the same three that had voted in favor of Stone's appointment.

After transacting regular business the council adjourned to meet in committee of the whole, and returned in a few minutes and the nomination of Mr. Stone was made.

Councilmen Hall and Horn stated after the vote:

"We are unalterably opposed to the appointment of Mr. Stone as city manager, not as a personal matter, but as we intended to ap-

JANUARY PERMIT TOTAL $1,011,633

Glendale Building Activity Shown as First Month Passes Million

Glendale starts off the New Year with a million dollar month!

Permits issued at the office of H. C. Vandewater, municipal building superintendent, this morning totaled $164,200, and the goal line was crossed when S. S. Beran & Co. took out permits to the value of $74,000, bringing January's total to $1,011,633.

In January, 1923, the permits totaled $1,024,336, and with a rush of applicants at the building superintendent's office at noon, this total will undoubtedly be exceeded before the office closes at 5 o'clock. In last year's total was included $400,000 of the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital, and when this is taken into consideration, it shows the relative business done in 1923 and 1924.

Give Good Boost

S. S. Beran & Co. were on hand with permits totaling $168,000 to take out if necessary to push the amount over the million dollar mark, but held only what were necessary to accomplish this.

Among the permits granted was one for $30,000 covering a ten room residence to be erected for Donald H. Barbee at the end of Vista avenue, adjoining L. C. Brand's estate. Others were for a four flat building to be erected for James J. Gribbon at 542 North Glendale avenue costing $15,000; a six room residence for Ethel W. and Clyde C. Lane at 801 East Colorado street costing $3500; and four 4-room and two 3-room apartments for Mrs. W. Nolan and San Nolen at 527 West Wilson costing $15,500. J. F. Cline and C. F. Frazier took out a permit for a six room residence at 324 Orange street to cost $7500.

An effort is to be made to have every month in 1924 a million dollar month. Last year January, February, March and November crowded into the magic circle.

Who Owns the Schools?

Certain individuals who appear to be laboring under the delusion that the Glendale Union High school system and the grade schools of the city are their private property to be "used" for political gain or personal profit, may be forced to acknowledge, as the discussion of the proposed consolidation—and elimination—of the school system continues, that, after all, THE PEOPLE OWN THE SCHOOLS!

And, before the proposed consolidation—and elimination—is effected, the OWNERS—the people who pay the bills—may have a lot to say about the matter. All of which caused The Glendale Evening News, in an editorial published last Tuesday, to warn against the undue haste that is being displayed by certain individuals in attempting, by propaganda, to suddenly change the city's educational system.

As this newspaper pointed out, the Glendale Union High school district is about to occupy an educational plant costing a great sum of money—and the people are paying the bills. Also, the city has been good to its grade schools, through bond issues—and the people are paying the bills! Further, the city has voted a huge sum of money for a needed sewer system—and the people are paying the bills!

So, when certain individuals appear to have the delusion that PUBLIC property can be used for personal politics—or profit—The Glendale Evening News believes that it is time to put on the brakes and have REAL investigation before the school system is scrambled into something that may be hard and costly to unscramble.

The Glendale Evening News has always supported bonds for schools; and this newspaper did all in its power for the success of the sewer bonds. Also, this newspaper will continue to urge the BEST educational facilities for Glendale. But—

THE GLENDALE EVENING NEWS, NOT BEING DOMINATED BY OUTSIDE INFLUENCES, REFUSES TO BE STAMPEDED INTO SUPPORTING A PROJECT LOADED WITH PROPAGANDA, AND THAT APPEARS TO BE PERSONALLY CONDUCTED BY SMALL POLITICIANS AND PERSONS SEEKING THEIR OWN ADVANCEMENT AT PUBLIC EXPENSE!

Therefore, being interested in the city's educational facilities ONLY from a desire for a Greater Glendale, and having no attachment for the schools for politics or personal gain, this newspaper is in a position to advise LESS HASTE AND MORE CAUTION toward the proposed consolidation—and elimination. And we respectfully urge upon the committees doing the investigating to get ALL of the facts; learn what will happen AFTER the consolidation—and elimination; find out WHO will personally benefit—and why; discover what positions—and salaries—will be created; AND WHO IS SLATED TO GET THE POSITIONS—AND THE SALARIES!

The committees, The Glendale Evening News believes, should not let a lot of manufactured enthusiasm dull their judgment. There has been—and is—too much haste and hurrah being displayed. The barrage MAY conceal THINGS that should be dragged out. There is already squealing over the fact that this newspaper urges caution. Is someone trying to STEAL something?

Propaganda in serial form, "hurry," "hurry" stuff, talk of "trades" and "resignations," advice from "masters," and clumsy attempts to cause the people to believe that the consolidation—and elimination—is being demanded on all sides, make The Glendale Evening News exceedingly suspicious. That's why this newspaper urges less haste, more investigation AND ALL THE FACTS!

Certainly the people, WHO HAVE TO PAY, are entitled to know, IN ADVANCE, who will benefit by the proposed change; who are slated for the salaried jobs—and why; what will be paid the favored ones—and why; what of future bond issues; in brief, let's have everything BEFORE the consolidation—and elimination—takes place. Surely those who pay the bills have the RIGHT to demand this; surely the public is entitled to know WHAT is to be done with its property, money and children!

Less propaganda, less haste and more investigation, more FACTS, are required. Otherwise, the suspicions that there is a set program of politics and personal advancement in the school system will become a certainty. AND WHEN POLITICS AND PERSONAL ADVANCEMENT DOMINATE A SCHOOL SYSTEM IT BECOMES TIME FOR THE PEOPLE TO MAKE A CHANGE FOR THE BENEFIT OF THEIR POCKETBOOKS, THEIR CHILDREN AND THE COMMUNITY!

Suggests People Learn What Is Going On In Schools

Attorney James F. McBryde, speaking before the Glendale Rotary club this afternoon, as an unbiased investigator of the proposed consolidation of the Glendale Union High school district and the Glendale city school system, urged that organizations of business men and civic associations, learn what is going in the schools and to carefully analyze the situation.

Politics and personalities have been injected into the plan of consolidation, according to the speaker, and he was prone to state that the opposition indicated that there was a lack of harmony between the two systems. Those opposed to the immediate consolidation, he said, are desirious of a full investigation.

Attorney McBryde gave a resume of the school organizations, stating that the high school properties are valued at $1,300,000 and the city school system at $1,231,860. The union district has over 2000 enrollment while the city has 5126. He added that a uniform system would, no doubt, eliminate an overlapping of supervision and business management.

At the same time, he pointed out the possibilities of the upland districts of the union, such as Tujunga and Monte Vista, forming a high school district of their own

CITIES PLAN TO OBSERVE OPENING OF NEW LINE

Glendale and Los Angeles To Stage Celebration Next Saturday

Glendale and Los Angeles will join hands Saturday morning in a big inter-city celebration over the opening of the Glendale & Montrose Railway company's new electric line down Glendale avenue to Glassell Park, connecting with the yellow cars to Los Angeles.

Extensive plans are being formulated by the Glendale Advancement Association to commemorate the event, which is generally conceded to be a great forward step in the history of the city, such a step as the recent $10,000,000 building year and the still more recent passage of the $1,600,000 sewer bond issue.

To Run Specials

The Glendale Advancement Association is co-operating with the Glendale & Montrose, Union Pacific and Los Angeles Railway companies in planning for the big celebration, which contemplates running special cars over the new line to Los Angeles on Saturday morning, gaily decked in flags, bearing banners significant of the event, and carrying a special band to herald with music the important forward step.

The three or more special cars run over the new line on Saturday will be in the nature of a "preview," according to Preston L. Hatch, general manager of the Glendale & Montrose Railway company. The official opening day is Sunday, February 3, when all transportation over the new line, starting south of Broadway, will be free, he states.

Following the special trip over the new line, when prominent Los Angeles and Glendale officials and business men will be guests by invitation, it is probable that a luncheon will be served at Verdugo Woodlands by F. P. Newport & Company, a large real estate firm known throughout the Southwest.

Among the officials who will be invted to attend this affair, according to President C. W. Ingledue of the Glendale Advancement association, are the City Councilmen, directors of the Chamber of Commerce and a number of representative business men and heads

ILLNESS STRIKES GRECIAN PREMIER

Venizelos Cabinet May Quit As Health of Leader Is Broken Down

By PAUL DRANDAKIS
For International News Service.

ATHENS, Jan. 31.—Illness today robbed Greece of the services of her foremost statesman—Elutherios Venizelos.

Premier Venizelos suffered a nervous breakdown and was ordered by his physicians to go to the country and remain quiet for at least a fortnight.

A special meeting of the cabinet led to a report that Venizelos had resigned, but this proved untrue.

The special cabinet council was summoned to select a vice-president to act for Premier Venizelos temporarily. After much discussion the meeting broke up without anyone being selected.

Cabinet May Resign

There were reports that Venizelos might hand in the resignations of himself and his cabinet this afternoon or tomorrow.

Mme. Venizelos, who has been living in Paris, has been summoned to her husband's bedside. She is expected to arrive tomorrow.

The names of M. Roussos and M. Kafandaris were mentioned as possible substitutes for Venizelos.

$75,000 BUILDING PERMIT GRANTED

Cleveland, O., Investors Plan Stores and Apartments On North Brand

Permit for the erection of a three-story class C store and apartment building was issued this morning to B. Grossman, 1323 East Broadway, and M. Mayers, 2029 Beechwood drive, Hollywood, who will immediately start building operations on their property at the southeast corner of Brand boulevard and Lexington drive, the building to be known as the Lexington apartments, and to cost $75,000.

The building will cover a space of 50x127 feet, and will contain three stores on the ground floor, facing on Brand boulevard. The upper stories will be devoted to apartments and the fifty-two rooms will be divided into twenty-six apartments, some of which will be of one room and others of a larger size. A half basement will be constructed underneath the building.

Heavy Investments

Face brick will be used in the exterior of the Lexington apartments and the entrance detail work will be of cast stone. The vestibules will be tiled, as will all the bathrooms in the house, and every modern convenience will be incorporated in the apartments.

Mr. Grossman and Mr. Mayers both came to Glendale recently from Cleveland, Ohio, and they have already invested heavily in Glendale realty, one of their purchases being the Bassell apartments, at the northeast corner of Brand boulevard and Lexington avenue, and another parcel that they intend to improve shortly is their lot at the corner of Burchett street and Brand boulevard.

Architect Alfred J. Priest has prepared the plans for the Lexington apartments, which will be constructed by day labor. Excavation will start today and it is planned to have the entire structure finished at the end of ninety days.

ANTI-RED RIOTING

HELSINGFORS, Jan. 31.—Anti-red disorders were reported from some parts of Russia today.

Here's Sure Cure For Hiccoughs

LOS ANGELES JAN. 31.—As a sure cure for hiccoughs, rub the patient behind the ears while he drinks a glass of water.

This was revealed today after L. A. Roberts, a railroad man from Minnesota stopped a 108-hour session of continuous hiccoughing, which was threatening the life of Walter Meng of Van Nuys.

WILD SCENES IN JAPANESE DIET

Premier Narrowly Escapes As Water Bottle Is Hurled In His Direction

By DUKE N. PARRY
For International News Service.

TOKIO, Jan. 31.—Tokio tonight was being patrolled much after the fashion of martial law.

As an aftermath of the sensational dissolution of the Diet this afternoon by Premier Kiyoura, practically the entire force of gendarmerie, reinforced by soldiers, were on the watch for violence.

Ten policemen stood guard outside the door of each minister of the Kiyoura ministry.

Premier Kiyoura read the prince regent's dissolution decree amid scenes of violence and confusion in the Diet chamber.

Rushed Off Platform

When Minister of Railways Komatsu attempted to address the chamber, his speech was snatched from his hands and a moment later he was jerked from the platform.

Premier Kiyoura narrowly escaped injury when he ducked his head just in time to miss a water bottle which had been hurled in his direction.

"Cries of we want Kiyoura," and "let Kiyoura explain why a former premier's train was derailed at Nagoya last night," arose when Komatsu attempted to speak.

Opinion differed tonight as to

EX-KAISER NEAR DEATH AT DOORN

Friends Fear Sudden End as Wilhelm Broods Over Fall of Dynasty

DOORN, Holland, Jan. 31.—Former Kaiser Wilhelm's health has broken down and members of his immediate household fear the worst, it was learned here today.

Friends of the one-time war lord admitted that his physical condition is precarious but claimed that the attending physicians are hopeful of restoring normal health.

Constant brooding over the downfall of his dynasty, coupled with religious mania, have contributed to general physical weakness.

Heart Is Weakened

Friends of the former emperor fear that the end may come suddenly, owing to weakened heart action.

Frequently Wilhelm suffers fits of acute weakness. His appearance has become more fragile and his face is pale and lined. Recently while drinking tea with Hermine, his wife, Wilhelm suddenly fell unconscious from his chair.

Physicians Alarmed As Film Star Sinks

PITTSBURG, Jan. 31.—The condition of Theodore Roberts, stage and screen star, who has been ill in a hotel here nearly six weeks, today was reported to have taken a serious turn for the worse within 24 hours. Visitors, who in the past have been permitted to see him, today were denied entrance to his suite and a consultation of doctors was ordered by his attending physician. Mr. Roberts is suffering from a kidney ailment.

SHIMMY STAR WEDS

CHICAGO, Jan. 31.—Gilda Gray, Ziegfeld star, often called the world's foremost shimmier, was married here today to Gaillard T. Boag of New York. Boag gave his age as 31, the bride hers as 25.

UPPER HOUSE UNANIMOUS ON WALSH MEASURE

Solons Favor Complete Probe And Injunction to Halt Further Operations

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Climaxing four days of acrimonious debate and ten days of sensational developments, the Senate this afternoon passed the Walsh resolution, declaring that the leasing of oil lands in California and Wyoming to E. L. Doheny and Harry F. Sinclair was surrounded "by fraud and corruption," and directing President Coolidge to institute legal proceedings to cancel the leases made by Ex-Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall. The vote was unanimous.

Just as the Senate was about to vote on the Walsh resolution, Senator Howell, Republican, Nebraska, proposed a substitute which would have President Coolidge "immediately seize" the lands leased to Sinclair and Doheny.

Must Approve Attorneys

The Senate decided to vote first on the Howell resolution and then on the Walsh resolution, after each had spoken for ten minutes.

The Howell resolution was defeated, Howell being the only one to vote for it.

The Walsh resolution, in addition to demanding that an injunction be sought immediately to stop further operations of the Teapot Dome and Elk Hills oil reserves, authorized the employment of special attorneys to handle all the litigation independent of the department of justice.

A provision was inserted making it necessary for the Senate to formally approve the selection of Silas H. Strawn of Chicago and Thomas W. Gregory of Texas, already named by the president to start proceedings against Doheny and Sinclair.

As soon as the Walsh resolution was adopted, the Senate took up the Robinson resolution demanding the resignation of Secretary of the Navy Denby.

Other Developments

While the Senate was thus pitchforked into an immediate and sensational fight, there were other developments, as follows:

1. Admiral J. L. Latimer testified before the house naval affairs committee that Denby himself initiated the transfer of the oil lands under his control to the interior department.

2. Three physicians examined ex-secretary of the Interior Fall at his residence to determine the effect and extent of his illness that has thus far prevented him from appearing as a witness to be questioned.

3. Admiral L. E. Gregory testified before the naval affairs committee that he believed the Doheny and Sinclair leases were beneficial to the government.

4. Representative Stephens, Republican of Ohio, declared he had information to the effect that the leases had not turned out as profitable to Sinclair and Doheny as they had figured and that they would be glad to turn back the leases to the government and get from under a bad bargain.

5. Judge J. C. Crawford Biggs of Raliegh, N. C., and R. H. Hollen and W. H. Jacobs of Chicago, were today retained by President Coolidge as associate counsel to assist in the legal steps to secure the return of the oil lands to the government.

Hollen and Jacobs are law partners of Silas Strawn, while Judge Biggs is a former assistant attorney-general of the United States. He is familiar with the history of the Elk Hills oil reserves in California, having acted as government prosecutor in 1904, when the reserves were recovered from the Southern Pacific railroad, which had secured a patent for the lands.

On his return to the capitol,

SOCIAL EVENTS

News of Wedding

A wedding of interest to a large circle of Glendale friends was celebrated at 6 o'clock last night, January 30, 1924, when Mrs. Marian Henry Webb, daughter of the late E. W. Henry and Mrs. Henry, of 512 East Harvard street, was united in marriage to William Clack of Los Angeles.

The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Whitten, 250 South Arden street, Los Angeles, where the bride has been making her home.

Rev. B. Dudley Snudden, pastor of the First Methodist church of South Pasadena, formerly pastor of the First Methodist church of Glendale, and Mrs. Webb's pastor while residing here, was the officiant, who performed the ring ceremony.

Mrs. Emma Culver and Dr. L. D. Reeks attended as matron of honor and best man, and little Wallace Webb, son of the bride, was the ring bearer.

Only the immediate members of the family, including the mother and brother of the bride, Mrs. Henry, of Glendale, and George G. Henry of Los Angeles, and Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Whitten and Mr. Whitten's father, J. W. Whitten, and Miss Margaret Gilmore witnessed the ceremony.

After a brief motor trip, Mr. and Mrs. Clack will be at home on Berendo street, corner of First, Los Angeles.

Mrs. Clack is a talented musician and has a host of friends in Glendale, where she took a prominent part in musical circles during her residence here, being the organist at the First Methodist church for a number of years.

Plan Memorial

Plans were discussed at the meeting yesterday at the Mutual Benefit Reading Circle at the public library, for a memorial for the late Mrs. W. W. Stofft, who was an active member of the circle and participant in Parent-Teacher association affairs. All old members and friends of the circle are invited to have a share in the memorial.

Mrs. R. V. Henry, president, presided at yesterday's meeting. Mrs. E. B. Moore announced the sale of season tickets for the lecture series beginning Friday, March 7 and continuing for six weeks. Lecturers will be furnished by the extension department of the University of California.

Tickets for the lectures can be secured from Mrs. Moore at 1259 South Maryland avenue, Glendale 15-W or from Mrs. A. A. Barton at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse, Glendale 2958.

During the circle meeting Mrs. Charles Peckham gave a review on "When Your Child Has Done Wrong" by Edith Lochridge Reid.

There were present four guests, Mrs. Caston, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Bull and Mrs. Worden from Pasadena. Mrs. Worden is leader of the new reading circle being started at the McKinley school in the crown city, and she and her associates came to Glendale to get valuable suggestions and ideas from the local organization.

After the luncheon hour Mrs. Henry began reading from "Schools of Tomorrow" by John Dewey.

Departs Friday

Mrs. Fannie Hotwet of Weehawken, N. J., who has been spending four months with her son and daughter in Glendale, and leaves tomorrow morning for the east, was honoree yesterday at a five-course luncheon given by Mrs. A. T. Dobson of 1009 Melrose street.

Lavender, the favorite color of Mrs. Hotwet, was chosen by Mrs. Dobson for the decorations of the table. Lavender stock, violets and heather were combined in the centerpiece, and cunning little lavender traveling bags were the favors at the places.

Places were marked for Mrs. Fannie Hotwet, James W. Horne, Mesdames George Hollister, W. T. Wallace, W. A. Howell, J. Stuart Woodhouse, Hannah Laura Stevens, L. Landers Stevens, Ben Piazza, Fannie Stockbridge and the hostess.

J. O. C. Meeting

Mrs. Lydia Rehberg, president of the J. O. C. class of the First Methodist church, announces a business and social meeting for Friday night, at 7:30 o'clock, at the church.

The regular meeting date is next Tuesday, but, owing to the evangelistic meetings to be in progress at the church next week, the class will meet tomorrow night.

Benefit Hostess

Mrs. Joseph Yoch of 128 West Chestnut street was hostess yesterday afternoon at a most enjoyable card party and silver tea for the beneft of the altar society of the Holy Family Catholic church. She was assisted by her three daughters, Miss Josephine Yoch, Mrs. M. E. West of Laguna Beach and Mrs. R. L. Barnett of Santa Ana.

The rooms were decorated with the season's flowers. Miss Dorothea Vogel of Glendale and Mrs. Otto Simon of Burbank contributed to the pleasure of the afternoon with several beautiful vocal selections. Mah Jongg and five-hundred were played. Mrs. Carrie Smith made highest score at five-hundred and Mrs. Rapp of Los Angeles second.

Delicious grape punch was served during the card games, and at the close of the afternoon refreshments of coffee, cake and toasted walnuts were served.

Many of the guests were from Los Angeles, Anaheim, Santa Ana and other out-of-town points. Those present were Mesdames H. Meck, J. Houle, Schoettler, Herman Nelson, Stewart, F. Huesman, Charles Rudell, E. Eyman, Heideman, Yaeger, Carrie Smith, Rapp, Young, Buechler, C. Gies, Otto Simon, John Quinn, Koche, Jensen, Young, Farrow, J. Lundregen, S. A. Valentine Party

Mary Louise Armstrong was the honoree Wednesday afternoon at a Valentine party given by her mother, Mrs. Betty Armstrong of 457 Patterson avenue, in the celebration of her fifth birthday anniversary.

The rooms of the Armstrong home were beautifully decorated for the occasion in a red and white color scheme. Red hearts and other motifs suggestive of Valentine's day were used in the decorative scheme. The daintily-appointed refreshment table was also decorated in the same color scheme and dainty bon bon baskets and favors were presented to each little guest. An elaborately decorated birthday cake lighted with five red candles formed the table centerpiece.

The afternoon was spent in playing many interesting games and participating in several guessing contests. During the afternoon the honoree opened her many lovely birthday gifts, one of them being a complete radio set.

Mrs. Armstrong was assisted by Mrs. G. W. Henderson and Mrs. John P. Keller.

The invited guests included Mary Josephine McUmber, Ruth Sheldon, Barbara and Doris Bell, Jeannette Schwendendr, Sidney and Susan McCurdy, Carrol Custer, Mary Greco, Jean Weller, June Golstein, Martha Anna and Peggy Baynes, Betty Thume, Marjorie McPherson, Stella Louise Kurtz and the honoree, Mary Louise Armstrong.

Unique Affair

A banquet for mothers and daughters Tuesday night at the Central Avenue Methodist church proved a most unique and pleasurable social affair for the 100 women and girls attending.

The dinner table was prettily decorated in a pink and white color scheme with pink sweetpeas forming the centerpiece.

During the evening community singing was led by Mrs. H. F. Moore; Mrs. Lucile Chandler gave piano solos; Mrs. Robert D. Jones, reading; Miss Emily Kopp, vocal solos; Dorothy Fischer, readings; Mrs. Casper Tuttle, piano solos; Vera Kayser, readings; Genevieve Zimmerman, violin solos and pianologue; and a duet by Mesdames Foster and Baker. The final event of the evening was the singing of America.

Madrigal Board

Mrs. Paul Hoffman of 327 North Maryland avenue, president of the Madrigal club, was hostess yesterday afternoon to the club executive board and the meeting was of special interest for a report of the artistic and financial success of the recent concert was given, nad Mrs. Helen Graham Cole, Mrs. Charles H. Meadows and Mrs. John Cotton were entertained as special guests.

The social hour late in the afternoon honored Mrs. Cole and Mrs. Meadows, who are leaving Glendale shortly. Mrs. Cole leaves Saturday for a trip east and will later reside in San Francisco, while Mrs. Meadows leaves in March for a European trip.

In behalf of the club Mrs. Meadows bade Mrs. Cole farewell and presented her with a beautiful silver pie knife, a gift from the club.

During the business discussion it was brought out that the recent concert was a wonderful success and greatly augmented the club treasury.

The club has voted to join with the Oratorio Section of the Glendale music club in the presentation of Medelssohn's "Elijah" late in March. The first rehearsal attended by the Madrigal singers was Tuesday night.

Late in the afternoon Mrs. Hoffman served refreshments.

THEATRES

THE GLENDALE

"The Temple of Venus" shows at the Glendale Theatre for the last times today, closing one of the most exceptional runs ever held in this showhouse, according to Manager William A. Howe.

There are times when Director Henry Otto seems to have out-DeMilled DeMille in his perfumed baths and extraordinary costumes and in the elaborate backgrounds ranging from mythological conceptions to present-day jazz parties.

But Mr. Otto has not confined himself to fantastic interiors; he has taken his multitudes of bathing beauties and half-clad nymphs into the 'white shadows of the South Seas' and beneath the seas into the abode of old Neptune himself. As a result, "The Temple of Venus" excels.

THE GATEWAY

Powerful in plot, swift in action and superbly acted is George Arliss' latest offering, "The Green Goddess," now showing at the Gateway Theatre, with a supporting cast that includes Alice Joyce, David Powell and Harry T. Morey.

The production given by Distinctive Pictures Corporation to "The Green Goddess," which is an adaptation by Forrest Halsey of the play of the same name by William Archer, is an exceptionally lavish one. The costuming is magnificent and the settings designed by Clark Robinson, internationally known stage architect, are artistic in the extreme. In some scenes several thousand people are employed and they have been expertly handled by Sidney Olcott—master hand with mobs and subtle dramatics alike.

"The Green Goddess" has been adjudged Arliss' best picture.

Back Yard Prowler Escapes In Darkness

When L. Ester, 109 South Verdugo road, opened the back door of his home last night at 9:30 o'clock he discovered a man prowling around, and immediately gave chase after the intruder, who ran in the direction of Broadway. At the junction of Broadway and Verdugo road the fleeing man was joined by two others.

Mr. Ester followed them as far as Wilson avenue where he lost them in the darkness. Detective Sergeant Charles P. Blake and Officer H. A. Stanford were detailed on the case but could not locate the men.

Special Bargains In Linoleum Offered

The Keystone Shade & Linoleum company, 212 South Central avenue, will hold a special sale of linoleums for two days, Friday and Saturday of this week. The company has an exceptionally large stock of linoleums, of various kinds and numerous patterns, and for this special event has made a remarkably low price on all of it, the only condition being that during this sale the price will not include the service of laying the material on the floor, which may either be done by the purchaser, or will be done by the company's experts at an additional service charge.

MAN-MADE NIAGARA

In the Swiss Alps, near Martingy, a waterfall that will rival Niagara is being constructed. It is at an altitude of more than 6000 feet, and is designed to supply electric power for the federal railways of Switzerland. To make the waterfall, a big dam is being constructed across the noted Barberine cascade. The height of this dam will be the same as that of Niagara, namely 262 feet, and it will form an artificial lake of about 40,000,000 cubic yards. The cost will be $10,000,000 to $15,000,000.

PRESIDENT WILL IGNORE ATTACKS

Coolidge Will Demand Proof Of Charges Against Cabinet Members

Senator Robinson said he had told the president the Democrats would not oppose confirmation of Strawn or Gregory as special counsel.

Coolidge Acts

An effort by President Coolidge to persuade Democratic senators to desist in their savage assaults on members of its cabinet and allow the oil lease "mess" to be cleared up by special government counsel and the courts, failed today.

The president summoned Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, the relentless prosecutor of the Teapot Dome case, and Senator Robinson, Democrat, Arkansas, who fathered the pending resolution demanding the resignation of Secretary of the Navy Denby, to the White House shortly before noon. They had a long conference with the chief executive, but they left the White House declaring they would push the pending resolutions "to the utmost."

Hughes' Statement

Secretary of State Charles E. Hughes today issued a formal statement declaring that the question of legality of the naval oil leases, or the policy of leasing the reserves was never brought for consideration in the meetings of the Harding cabinet.

Furthermore, Secretary Hughes said, his own opinion of the leases had never been sought.

While Secretary Hughes did not comment on his reasons for issuing the statement, it is presumed it was designed to meet Democratic attacks on the Harding cabinet as having approved the leases.

Denby and Daugherty Not To Resign, Decision

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—President Coolidge will not permit Secretary of the Navy Denby to resign from the cabinet "under fire," it was said by those who have conferred with him in the last twenty-four hours.

Neither will he accept a resignation from Attorney General Daugherty at this time.

Both Denby and Daugherty, it was learned today, have informally suggested to the president that they would retire if such action would help to allay attacks by senatorial accusers which in any way placed the blame or responsibility, directly or indirectly, upon Coolidge in the naval oil reserves leasing scandal.

The president told his cabinet that they must stick by their guns, and he will back them.

Many Conferences

This decision was reached following numerous conferences between the president and the cabinet members after being assailed by the Democrats in connection with the leases.

Resignation at this time by Denby would be tantamount to an admission of some wrongdoing, or at least it would give opponents a basis to charge this. It would be bad politics, Republicans said, to permit Denby to retire until the odium surrounding the oil scandal has been cleared. Good politics in the present situation demands that the president stand squarely behind Denby, at least until it has been substantiated in court that the navy secretary has exceeded his authority, Mr. Coolidge has been informed by his closest advisers.

This does not mean that the president will not press forward vigorously in the government's suit to recover the oil lands. The president has determined to leave nothing undone to get to the very bottom of the oil scandal, it was said at the White House, but he does not propose to take cognizance of unfounded verbal attacks unless substantiated by unimpeachable proof.

Consider Resolution

The Senate again had up the Walsh resolution today and the resolutions by Senators Robinson, Democrat, of Arkansas and Wheeler, Democrat, of Montana, demanding removal of Denby and Daugherty.

After another flood of debate, all indications pointed to passage of the Walsh annulment measure before adjournment with virtually no opposition.

With coalitionists' ranks, insurgents and Democrats holding steadfast, it also was predicted favorable action would follow on the resignation resolutions.

In an effort to determine actually just what physical ailments are keeping Fall in a bed at the home of Colonel J. W. Zevely, Sinclair's attorney, three nerve specialists, appointed by the public lands committee, prepared to make a thorough examination of the ex-secretary today. They were Doctors Thomas A. Clayton, Daniel Stuart and Sterling Ruffin.

Row on Appointments

As the Senate resumed session today, Senator Phipps, Republican of Colorado, demanded action on his amendment to the Walsh resolution which would "request" rather than "direct" the president to appoint special counsel.

Behind the scenes in the upper chamber, a fight was brewing on the appointments of Silas H. Strawn and Thomas Watt Gregory as the special counsel. The clash was brought to a head by an amendment by Senator McKellar, Democrat of Tennessee, to the resolution appropriating $100,000 for the counsels. This would disqualify any man, who ever had been connected with oil interests, and was aimed at Gregory, who was said to formerly have been associated with an oil company as counsel.

Charles Findley's Death Accidental, Is Jury's Verdict

CHARLES P. FINDLEY, who was suffocated yesterday when buried under thirty tons of debris in cave-in of gravel pit.

Death from suffocation, due to unavoidable accident, was the verdict of the coroner's jury this morning, in the case of Charles P. Findley of 1741 Camulos avenue, Verdugo Woodlands, who died yesterday at the Gordon & Harrison gravel plant north of Sparr Heights, when entombed under thirty tons of damp sand, following a cave-in.

The inquest consumed over an hour and revealed the fact that no bones were broken, suffocation alone being responsible for the tragedy. Those who sat on the jury, which held its inquest in the parlors of the Jewel City Undertaking company, comprise:

R. Stingley of 212 East Maple street, Bret McDonald of the Horseshoe club, B. C. Towson of 111 North Kenwood street, W. E. McGill of 457 West Colorado street, A. J. Pelton of 401 West Colorado street and Dr. George W. Potts of 626 Myrtle street.

See Accident

The witnesses were O. G. Hansey of 351 Manhattan avenue, La Crescenta, and Ernest Lewis of 358 East Piedmont avenue, La Crescenta, both employes of the Gordon & Harrison company.

Charles P. Findley, who met death Wednesday, January 30, 1924, would have been 40 years old on February 20. He is survived by the widow, Mrs. Hester V. Findley, by two sons, Charles, Jr., a sophomore in the Glendale Union High school, and William Findley; by two sisters, Mrs. Charles T. Shook and Mrs. Juan Fuentez; by a brother, Stewart P. Findley; and by his mother, Mrs. M. E. Findley, of Walnut Park.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been made and will be announced following the arrival of Mrs. Findley's parents from Pomona.

London Poor Could Be Lodged in Rich Homes

LONDON, Jan. 31.—Although thousands of Londoners are forced to live in one and two-room apartments due to the middle-class housing shortage, West End real estate agents report that not within living memory has there been so many "For Sale" and "To Let" boards exhibited, indicating the hundreds of fashionable mansions and huge apartments vacant through lack of tenants.

Agitation is gaining momentum that these superflats and mansions should be converted into middle-class and workmen's dwellings at nominal rentals rather than lie idle, while so many of the poorer classes want homes.

City Employes Pay Tribute to Reeves

At the close of the regular business session of the City Council this morning W. H. Reeves, city manager, was called to the front and presented with a gold Spanish-American War Veteran's pin and a gold fountain pen by Mayor Spencer Robinson, on behalf of the city employes of Glendale.

Mr. Reeves responded with a few remarks saying that if his efforts had been productive of any advancement in the city he would feel that he had been amply repaid for his labor during his two and one half years occupancy of the city manager's position.

U. S. HAS CAMP IN TOKIO PARK

Americans Cheered at Sight of Camp Cyrus Woods's Military Force

By DUKE N. PARRY
For International News Service.

TOKIO, Jan. 31.—Add another camp to the units of the American military forces, its name Camp Cyrus E. Woods, its headquarters Tokio, Japan. For the American who lives in Tokio takes a great deal of pride these days in the sight of an American soup kitchen under army supervision, at the corner of Hobiya Park, Tokio; he likes the sight of a big American army truck lumbering down one of Tokio's streets and driven by a husky American marine. And finally he takes sole comfort in the fact that the unit now encamped at the old American Embassy Compound in Tokio has cots, provisions and enough men to take care of practically all the Americans in Tokio should this city be visited by another disaster similar to that of September 1.

Honors Ambassador

Camp Cyrus E. Woods was so named by the first general order issued by Captain W. B. Sullivan, senior captain in the United States Marine Corps, when Captain Sullivan was placed in charge of this camp early in September. Captain Sullivan named his camp in honor of the American ambassador, who is now in the United States on vacation, and today Camp Woods is one of the bustling places of industry in the capital city. The old Embassy Compound, located fifteen minutes from the center of the city, is familiar to all Americans and many other foreigners and Japanese in Tokio. It has been the scene of many a beautiful garden party in the past, and those Americans who have lived here a number of years will long remember the big frame embassy building which was destroyed on the night of September 1, 1923. During the past months, however, the scenes at the American Embassy Compound have been vastly different from those which took place there earlier. Several days ago a uumber of American correspondents were invited to spend the day at Camp Woods that they might get an idea of what is done there and just how the men assigned to Tokio are putting in their time.

U. S. Flag Over Camp

A broken flagpole, with a small American flag on top, lets the stranger know, before he arrives at Camp Woods, that some American institution is within the iron fence of the compound. An American marine patrols in front of the gates, and within a row of canvas tents lets one know that the property is connected with the American army or navy. Here is a tent bulging with canned goods lately received from America, all of it on reserve for an emergency; here another, where a group of marines busily distributes provisions imported by the American Trading Company and sold at cost to Americans in Tokio. The best hams, bacons, canned goods that many an American home in Tokio has enjoyed for months, are sold there; and dozens of families are represented in the lines of servants who wait for their portion of the provisions. In many cases missionaries living outside of Tokio have come to the city to get a share of the goods imported from America.

Men Win Praise

The men of Camp Woods, in Tokio, have been praised by Japanese as well as Americans for their conduct while on duty here. In a position where they might cause considerable trouble, the men detailed to this work have recognized the fact that they are the first American enlisted men assigned to Tokio, and they have yet to have reported against them a single case of friction with the Japanese authorities or with the Japanese neighbors who live in the vicinity of Camp Cyrus E. Woods.

BEAUTY CLAY MINE FOUND IN IOWA

Prospector Taken for 'Dry' Sleuth, New Owner of Valuable Deposits

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., Jan. 31.—Mistaken for a federal booze sleuth and followed with suspicion wherever he went, G. F. O'Brien, after several months' investigation, has announced the discovery of a "beauty clay mine," with a deposit of several million tons, near Brainard, Ia.

Chemists and geologists of the University of Iowa have pronounced this clay the finest so far discovered, O'Brien stated. It is almost entirely free from foreign matter, especially silica, which is so often found in beauty clay.

O'Brien was led to the deposit by outcroppings he observed in a deep ravine not more than five hundred feet from the Rock Island station at Brainard, where the first digging has taken place.

The clay is found under the ground in a damp, adhesive form resembling putty, but quickly dries and becomes hard. It is then ground into a powder and sacked for shipment. no further process being necessary.

There is a great demand in many commercial lines for this clay. It is used extensively in purifying lard, bleaching oils, such as linseed, cottonseed, olive and all vegetable and animal oils, of which the foregoing now require an annual supply of 10,000 carloads similar to that of the Brainard find. Such clay is also used in water colors, calcimine and as a basis for greases. Its apparent adaptability for beauty clay indicates this will be one of the greatest outlets. It is also used extensively as an ingredient for toothpaste.

Clay for such purposes now comes from Florida, Arkansas and Texas. O'Brien's enterprise has an advantage of several dollars on the ton in shipping into Chicago over the other places. Proximity of the Rock Island tracks gives him another advantage of getting shipments aboard cars inexpensively.

Though highly confident that the deposit will more than live up to the endorsement of geologists and chemists who have examined samples, O'Brien so far has been reticent, admitting only that grinding will start at once, and machinery will soon be on the grounds to make the clay available in commercial quantities.

Officials said that formal recognition by the British government might be expected any time now.

SAYS KING LOST COLLAR BUTTONS

His Highness Also 'cussed' And Made Noises With Soup, Is Charge

CHICAGO, Jan. 31.—Kings are just as much bother to their wives as are American husbands who loaf about the house at night with collar bands unfastened, their slippers flapping and their pipes showering fine ashes over the rugs.

The person who says so is Mlle. Nata Novar, in private life Roxanne Manos, sister of Aspasia Manos, morganatic wife of the late King Alexander of Greece. She has just come to Chicago to teach society to dance a rejuvenatd tango.

Mlle. Nata lived in the royal palace and saw the king early in the morning, when most American husbands are not yet shaven, and late at night, when American husbande are explaining why they didn't have time to be shaven.

"Alexander was so much trouble to Aspasia," the dancer confided.

"He was so careless. Flicked cigarette ashes on the floor. He used to breeze into the palace rooms and flop his hat on the nearest chair.'

The king, she said, could qualify for another reason as a first-class American husband. He had no taste for ties. Aspasia had to scold him often because of some too flamboyant scarf. Other times, she had to nearlp tear away some gaudy bit of frippery that the king foolishly imagined gave him a roguish air.

"Then he'd say, 'Oh, let me alone; you're always picking on me,.'

Mlle. Nata swears it's true.

King Alexander used to annoy Aspasia in another way that is a sure-fire trouble breeder in American bungalows.

"If he dropped a collar button and it rolled presumably under a dresser, as collar buttons will do," said the queen's sister, "would he get down on his knees and look for it? Certainly not! There it would stay. And my! how he'd swear!"

Then the king would call Aspasia to find it for him.

Regular Fellow

"I am not speaking disrespectfully of Alexander. He was a regular fellow, as you say over here. Didn't like ceremony. He was very happy with Aspasia, and would rather sit in the kitchen and eat bread and drink milk with her than watch a lot of pomp at court."

The blackest mark against Alexander Mlle. Nata revealed in hushed whispers.

"When he was alone with Aspasia," she said, "he made noises eating his soup."

But, in justice to the king, his sister-in-law added that before the company His Majesty always negotiated his cream of tomato with the cut-out closed.

Captain In Trouble Over Cargo of Bombs

CORK, Jan. 31.—The steamship Limebranch, bound from London to American ports, was towed into port today after a breakdown at sea. The captain was charged with a breach of law because he failed to report 250 cases of bombs and other munitions in the cargo.

New City Manager Chosen By Council

point a man to act temporarily only, we felt that it should be a man who is not a candidate for the position. We do not feel that it is fair to the other candidates to have Mr. Stone occupying the position in a temporary sense only.

Suggested Chief

"We suggested Chief of Police John D. Fraser, who took over the duties while Mr. Reeves was away for two or three weeks last summer. He is not a candidate and could fill the position until we made our final choice. We wish to be placed on record as absolutely opposed to the appointment of Mr. Stone."

Mayor Spencer Robinson stated, when asked to comment on the appointment:

"The only thing was that the position of city manager was vacant, and we had to find somebody to fill it. I considered Mr. Stone the logical man for the place. As far as I am concerned, his appointment, which I consider of a temporary nature, will not influence me when it comes to the selection of a permanent city manager."

Powers of Office

Mr. Stone's appointment as city manager is in no wise affected by the passage of the subsequent resolution, only insofar that as the three regard it as temporary, they have the power to discharge him at any time, according to the terms of the city charter, officials say.

His status at the present time as city manager is just as stable as if the resolution had never been passed, it is claimed.

Rioting In Japanese Diet; Call Soldiers

the outcome of today's occurrences. Friends were urging Kiyoura to resign but he was reported obdurate.

Hamada, an opposition leader, in haranguing the Diet, declared that "another train passed the same place that the politicians' train was wrecked an hour before. The regent is soon going that way. Such an accident would be possible to his train unless greater precautions are taken."

The question of universal suffrage for men in Japan has been one of the foremost problems before the session of the Diet dissolved today.

Support Measure

Support of the measure in the Diet was strong and prospects for the passage of the measure were strong until the attempted assassination December 27 of Prince Regent Hirohito as he was en route to address the Diet session just dissolved.

The Yammamoto ministry, which numbered in its personnel such liberals as Baron Shimpei Goto, was not expected to oppose passage of a universal suffrage bill.

Announcement of the appointment of Viscount Kiyoura as premier was heralded as killing hope of action at this session on the measure because of his known opposition to liberalism.

Boys Held as Burglars Terrify Their Victims

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 31—Eight and eleven years of age respectively, Harry Renfro and Manuel Gesswein, were arrested today by Detectives T. P. Noone and Thomas Pearson on a charge of having burglarized the machine shop of C. V. Nuttall.

Despite their tender years, the boys were characterized as "hard-boiled" by the police. "I'm a clam," was the only reply obtainable from Gesswein. Eight-year-old Renfro admitted other burglaries.

The youngsters placed a number of loaded shotgun shells in the stove before leaving. When Nuttall kindled a fire in the morning, an explosion occurred that caused the woman bookkeeper to rush out of the place in semi-hysterical condition.

When placed under arrest Renfro seemed to enjoy the experience. Gesswein made repeated attempts to escape.

Germans Free Aides Of Slacker Kidnaper

BERLIN, Jan. 31.—Robert Sperber, a French detective, and Prince Gagarin, a Russian refugee, who were imprisoned in connection with the attempt to kidnap Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, wealthy American draft dodger, were released from prison today, said a dispatch from Mossbach. They were released upon the same pardon which liberated Lieutenant Corliss B. Griffis of Canton, Ohio, yesterday.

OBREGON FORCES CRUSHING REBELS

Armies on Both Western and Southeastern Fronts Are Defeated

By ARTHUR CONSTANTINE
For International News Service.

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 31.—(Delayed.)—The Mexican revolution has been broken by President Obregon's federal armies, according to advices received by the war office. The rebel armies on both the western and southeastern fronts have been defeated. General Guadalupe Sanchez, the rebel chief, is reported a fugitive in the mountains near Orizaba with only a bodyguard of a few hundred men with him.

Only a five-hour railway journey separates the victorious federal army of General Martinez from Vera Cruz, the rebel "capital."

Five rebel generals have been captured. They will face a firing squad of federals if the regular custom is followed.

Huerta's Brother Slain

Alfonso de la Huerta, brother of the civilian head of the revolution, was killed in battle near Llano Grande.

Adolfo de la Huerta is reported to be preparing to move the rebel "capital" to Merida, state of Yucatan.

Federal troops have occupied the mountain city of Orizaba without firing a shot.

3,000 Rebels Killed

Three thousand rebels have been killed in the violent battles that have been raging on the southeastern front in the past four days. Sanchez' army of 8,000 men has been scattered.

Federal troops have captured 2,500 prisoners and much war material.

Federal cavalry is pursuing Sanchez and his handful of followers.

The chief rebel cavalry leader, General Maycotte, is reported to have been slain.

SERVICE STATION TO GIVE PRIZES

Van and Jack to Mark First Day in Business By Gifts To Clients

Six valuable prizes will be given away to patrons of Van and Jack's Super-Service station, 240 South Brand boulevard, on the opening day Friday, February 1.

In addition to tickets entitling each customer to a chance on the prizes, every buyer will be presented with a quart of oil and a pound of cup grease.

The newest Brand boulevard service station represents all that is modern in automobile service.

The buildings are of mission style, every piece of equipment is of the most up-to-date kind obtainable, the lot is large and well situated. A. R. Van Winkle and Jack O. Eaton are the owners, both being active and likeable young men who will make many friends among Gendale motorists.

Department Heads

Blue Diamond and Propello gasoline will be features. The grease rack service will be under the management of C. E. Schleicher. L. J. Theriault, formerly of the Theriault Vulcanizing works, 617 South Brand, will conduct the tire department.

The six prizes to be given to customers on the opening day will be the following: First, 50 gallons of gasoline; second, 50 gallons of gasoline; third, five gallons of oil; fourth, complete wash and polish job; fifth, complete greasing for car; sixth, automobile tire and tube.

LOCKLYN TO GREECE

ATHENS, Jan. 31.—Reports were current in diplomatic circles yesterday that Irwin Locklyn will be appointed American minister to Greece.

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

When Back Hurts Flush Your Kidneys as You Clean Your Bowels

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, sometimes get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region begin drinking lots of water. Also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is intended to flush clogged kidneys and help stimulate them to activity. It also helps neutralize the acids in the urine so they no longer irritate, thus helping to relieve bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which everybody should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean.

A well known local drugigst says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in trying to correct kidney trouble while it is only trouble. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—Advertisement.

PREPARING PLANS FOR CONVENTION

Clubwomen Meet to Make Arrangements for Big Gathering Here

By KATHERINE V. SINKS
Of The Evening News Staff.

Plans for the twenty-third annual convention of the Los Angeles District Federation of Women's clubs in Glendale Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, April 8, 9 and 10, were discussed yesterday afternoon at the meeting of the advisory council of the Tuesday Afternoon club at the clubhouse. The advisory council is composed of officers and directors, curators of sections and chairmen of committees of the club.

Mrs. Daniel Campbell, president of the club, presided over the meeting, during which it was announced that the convention will open at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, April 8, and will close with a banquet Thursday night, April 10, at one of Glendale's prominent churches. Morning sessions are to begin at 10 o'clock and continue till 12:15 o'clock; luncheon will be served at 12:30 o'clock and the afternoon sessions begin at 2 o'clock.

Plan for Reception

It is planned that on the opening day, Tuesday, April 8, after the preliminaries of the afternoon session, a reception will be held at night, opening with greetings and a song by Mayor Spencer Robinson.

Details of the convention will be handled by Mrs. W. E. Evans, courtesy at the door; Mrs. Warren Roberts, music; Mrs. Homer Lockwood and Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, hospitality; Mrs. Alexander Mitchell, courtesy; Miss Eva Daniels, publicity; Mrs. C. H. Temple, entertainment; automobiles, Mrs. S. C. Packer and Mrs. Max Lynn Green; Mrs. C. G. Putnam, ushers; Mrs. H. C. Wilcox, equipment; Mrs. C. J. Higgins, check room; Mrs. C. W. Houston, esigns; Mrs. E. W. W. Hayward, tickets and housing; Mrs. Lillian Dow, information; Mrs. J. M. Eyerick, decorations; Mrs. H. A. McPherson, Mrs. W. H. Yarick, platform; Mrs. Mabel Franklin Ocker, exhibits; Mrs. E. W. Gilliland, registration; Mrs. B. O. Holbrook, finances.

Discuss Club Budget

Aside from the convention plans various other matters occupied the time of the advisory council yesterday. The club budget was discussed and Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, first vice-president and chairman of ways and means, was given a hearty vote of thanks for her accomplishments during the past months.

Announcement was made that a big garden fete is to be given in the spring at the L. C. Brand foothill estate.

Mrs. B. O. Holbrook was presented as a new member of the club directorate, successor to Mrs. J. E. Sargent, who has moved to Upland.

Mrs. Frank Weller, chairman of health for the club, was also introduced.

Late in the afternoon tea was served and a social hour enjoyed by the forty-five or more club women present.

Tong Slayer 'Squeals' First Time in History

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 31.—The presence in San Francisco this afternoon of Chief of Police J. H. Kirkley of Reno, Nev., revealed for the first time in the history of Chinese tong warfare in the United States, a tongman facing death has "squealed."

Chief Kirkley, although he declined to discuss his mission, is here checking up details of a confession made by Hughie Sing, American born Chinese youth, who made a complete confession to Kirkley of the tong slaying of an aged Chinese at Mina, Nev.

In view of the confession, the Nevada state pardon board late Saturday commutted Sing's sentence to life imprisonment saving him from death by lethal gas on February 8.

Sing is understood to have implicated others in his confession. Gee John convicted with him, will die February 8 by the gas route—the first execution of its kind in America.

Hunter Admits Killing Two Deer Out Season

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 31.—"I have made by peace with God but feel that I must have forgiveness from the California state fish and game commission before my conscience is clear."

With this introduction, a citizen of Klamath Falls, Oregon, who twelve years ago killed two bucks in Modoc county during the closed season, has admitted his offense in a letter and asked for pardon.

George Neale, executive officer to the state commission has extended the hand of forgiveness in a letter to the conscience stricken hunter and adjured him to "go and sin no more."

U. S. Internal Revenue Shows Big Increase

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—The government's income from internal revenue for the six months ending January 1 was $1,399,797,452, an increase of $232,151,024 over receipts for the same period in 1922, it has been announced by the treasury.

Of this sum, income and profits taxes totalled $821,295,511, an increase of $144,463,431 over the same period in 1922.

ROYAL'S PLAYERS PROVE GREAT HIT

Manager Himself Scores as Tito Lombardi; Pendroy's Employes Guests

Charles E. Royal scored a distinct success at the Tuesday Afternoon club theatre last night, in the eccentric role of Tito Lombardi in the famous play, "Lombardi, Ltd.," bringing to the part a spontaneity and vigor that made the happy-go-lucky Italian creator of lovely gowns live before the eyes of the generous audience present.

This audience included a large theatre party of employes and executives from the Pendroy Dry Goods company, corner of Brand boulevard and Harvard street. Between the second and third acts W. O. Blatchford, manager of the furniture department in this store, took the stage and proved himself a monologuist of worth, impersonating uproariously the erring husband who returns to his domicile at 4 o'clock in the morning and cuckoos the remaining eight times in imitation of the cuck (hiccough) oo clock in the hall, so that his half-asleep spouse will not divine the extent of his transgression.

In Need of Oil

And then when she says next morning, "My dear, I think you had better get some oil for that cuckoo clock. It almost sounded last night as if it had the hiccoughs!" of course the audience rocked to hear Mr. Blatchford tell it.

Mr. Blatchford also made a short talk in praise of the high calibre of histrionic talent offered by the Royal Stock company. Glendalians, he said, wanted the best there is and were getting it.

In making this statement he was not exaggerating. Had Manager Charles E. Royal and his company not already proved their worth more than once, in the eight weeks they have been presenting big popular plays at the Tuesday Afternoon club theatre, they would certainly have done so last night. "Lombardi, Ltd., is a difficult play, full of evanescent atmosphere which they recaptured by their talent, delighting the audience.

Politician, Alleged Grafter, to Be Tried

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 31.—An under cover attempt of the more powerful railroads to determine the strength of the Railroad Brotherhoods was seen in railroad circles here in reports that the Monongahela railroad, owned jointly by the Pennsylvania & Pittsburgh and Lake Erie, but operated ostensibly as a separate road, was planning arbitrary wage reductions and changes in working conditions.

Sinclair in London on Business, Report

PARIS, Jan. 31.—Harry F. Sinclair, millionaire American oil producer, whose name is involved in the Teapot dome oil lease scandal at Washington, has gone to London for several days on business, his secretary announced. Sinclair sent a telegram to Senator Lenroot yesterday stating he would return to the United States as soon as he could "expedite his business affairs," to divulge all his knowledge of the Teapot dome leasing transaction.

Fresh tea leaves contain 80 per cent water.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 31.—Why are movie people such failures as husbands and wives? The oft-asked question is being repeated as Hollywood contemplates the wreck of the marriage venture of George Melford, the director, and his wife, Mrs. Louise Leroy Knauff. (Knauff is the civilian name of Melford).

Perhaps the psychologists are correct in their diagnosis of the trouble. The people of the screen, they explain, are human sieves through which are sifted constantly the characters they are accustomed to play. Eventually the make believe character weakens the foundation of the real one and in time effaces it completely, with the result, they declare, that the stars act off the stage and screen as well as on it.

Of course the genuine happiness of such couples as Enid Bennett and Fred Niblo, Conrad and Ruth Nagle, Francis Bushman and Beverly Bayne, ('Tis Frances' second marriage, however), Vola Vale and Albert Russell, Ralph and Vera Lewis, Theodore and Mrs. Roberts, to name a very few, would seem to belie this, but the large number of movie marriages than have gone on the rocks in the last few years must be considered.

In the case of Melford, his wife charged that he transferred his affections to one of the women he had directed in the intricacies of love for the screen. She named the woman as Jacqueline Logan.

What were the reasons in other notable wrecks of the marital adventures of film puppets?

Mae Allison charged cruelty when she sued her husband of three years, Robert Reel, a newspaper man, for divorce.

Desertion was the complaint of Gladys Blue, in her suit against Monte Blue.

Lou Tellegen was not content to appear as the great lover only on the screen, declared Geraldine Farrar.

Incompatibility was given as the explanation by friends when Lionel Barrymore was divorced from his wife. He later married Irene Fenwick, a member of his company.

Richard Bennett and his wife have separated to live their own lives in different apartments.

So have Florence Vidor and King Vidor. This is a case of marital difficulty that Hollywood can't understand. They seemed very happy until they agreed to disagree.

Marie Prevost, who made the bathing suit famous, was charged with desertion by H. C. Gerke, who obtained a decree.

Desertion was also blamed in the divorce of Jackie Saunders and E. D. Horkheimer.

Tom Moore, who was divorced from Alice Joyce, some years ago, is reported estranged from his present wife, Renee Adoree.

Pauline Frederick got a divorce, but she evidently had nothing against marriage as an institution, for she took unto herself another husband.

The next time Barbara La Marr marries her husband will be No. 6, 'tis said by those who have kept count.

Matrimonial ennui caused Jerome Storm, director, to leave his wife.

"He just went away saying that he was tired of being married, but that he would provide for me and the baby" explained Mrs. Storm.

Many separations and disagreements have marred the marriage of Jack Gilbert and Leatrice Joy. Now it is said the divorce stage has been reached.

The hasty marriages which ended in a few days in the divorce courts are also numerous. Alma Rubens secretly married Franklyn Farnum. But they had separated before the news reached the Los Angeles papers a fortnight later. Constance Talmadge supplemented a sudden elopement with a whirlwind divorce.

Because her career is the first thing in her life Gloria Swanson received a divorce from Herbert Somborn and the custody of her little girl. Desertion was the technical charge.

And on and on, endlessly.

WILSON SUFFERS SLIGHT ILLNESS

Former President's Condition Regarded as Favorable By Physicians

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Woodrow Wilson has been somewhat indisposed for two days, it was stated at the Wilson home today, but it is not regarded as serious.

The former president was engaged as usual with his morning mail when inquirers went to his home today and it was indicated that whatever indisposition occurred was not sufficient to interrupt the usual routine of the household, or prevent the former president's custom of personally going over his voluminous mail.

The source of illness was not disclosed, but it was understood to be a stomach disorder.

Dr. Sterling Ruffin, who attended the former president in the White House, said it had no connection with his previous ailments. Dr. Cary T. Grayson, the regular Wilson physician, is in North Carolina on a hunting trip and has not been summoned back.

REVIVAL SERVICE TO OPEN SUNDAY

Kerr Brothers Will Conduct Evangelistic Campaign At M. E. Church

The pastor and members of the First Methodist Episcopal church are looking forward with unusual interest to a month of special services commencing on Sunday, February 3, and continuing until March 2. Every night except Saturday there will be services starting at 7:30 o'clock.

Three evangelists will conduct the services, the two Kerr brothers and the wife of one making the party. All are gifted and fitted for this work. The brothers are both speakers and singers, while Mrs. Kerr is an accomplished pianist.

Dr. W. B. Collins, 210 East Park avenue, knew the Kerr brothers in Indiana when he was in the active ministry. He strongly recommends them as being the equal of any evangelists in the field, and predicts a treat for Glendale people. It will be a gospel message in both sermon and song. The party will arrive in Glendale Saturday and be present at the church for the first time for the Sunday morning service.

Moonshine Puts Out Gas, Two Asphyxiated

CHICAGO, Jan. 31.—Mrs. Anna Kruger and Lydia, her daughter, were asphyxiated and a son and daughter were taken to a hospital in a serious condition late yesterday after inhaling gas fumes. Efforts to revive Lydia and her mother were futile. According to police, "Moonshine" was the indirect cause of the tragedy. A kettle of "mash" which was on a stove boiled over and put out the burner flame.

ACCIDENTS COST $1,000,000 YEARLY

Oil Industry Suffers Loss Through Injuries to Field Work

Industrial accidents in the California oil fields represent a gross loss of nearly $1,000,000 a year to the oil industry, according to the Department of the Interior, which, through the Bureau of Mines, is conducting a study of the subject. The figure given does not include the additional large amount lost through decreased work resulting from the disorganizing effect which accidents have on the workers.

According to H. C. Miller, associate petroleum engineer, Bureau of Mines, who is making this statistical study, 14.17 per cent of the accidents to oil workers, resulting in 29.38 per cent of all the time lost because of accidents, were caused by the machinery at drilling and producing wells. A detailed survey shows that 39.34 per cent of the accidents, causing 54.27 per cent of the total number of days lost through injuries, were sustained by the drilling crews engaged in drilling operations. In terms of days lost, pumpers and oilers come next, though field roustabouts and laborers rank second as regards the number of accidents.

As a source of accidents, heavy lifting and straining closely follow the machinery at drilling and producing wells, though falls of persons caused the loss of more than four times as many days, due largely to the serious character of the accidents resulting from falls of workers from derricks and derrick ladders.

Three Per Cent Loss

An average of slightly more than 3 per cent of the total days worked by the employes of nine out of ten companies whose records were studied by the Bureau of Mines were lost on account of injuries received during the course of employment.

In all 4,108 tabulated accidents causing disability lasting longer than the day of injury and resulting in a total loss of 274,829 days occurred during the years 1921 and 1922 to the employes in the drilling and producing departments of the ten oil companies whose reports were available for this study. This number represents approximately two-thirds of all the lost time accidents met with in the oil fields of California during 1921 and 1922 and are fairly representative of the accidents occurring in the oil fields of California.

The progress of the "safety first" movement in the oil fields of California during the past few years has been remarkably rapid, Mr. Miller points out in Serial 2557, just issued by the Bureau of Mines. It has been generally conceded by those who have learned to value the life and limbs of their employes, that safety is essential to efficiency, and no company that has a high accident rate can be considered an efficient organization. Accidents have a destructive effect on the morale of any body of workers and cause disorganization and delays.

Must Reduce Risks

The increasing danger to life and limb involved in the drilling for and the production of oil and gas has become so great that it is clearly evident that everything possible must be done to keep it within the narrowest limits.

There is a tendency toward carelessness, especially by men who are employed in hazardous occupations. This is brought about by the familiarity of the risk under which they are working, and in no industry is this more forcibly exemplified than in the oil fields. Men have performed the same or similar duties for many years and have worked around similar hazards and unprotected machinery until many have an entire disregard for the dangers surrounding them. Very often familiarity with a hazard occasions a contempt for that hazard which only too often results disastrously.

It is therefore evident that the employer and employe must work hand in hand to attain the desired end of reducing these avoidable accidents to a minimum, but it remains for the employer to take the initiative. His first duty is to provide adequate and effective safeguards and safety devices for all dangerous machinery and working places and thereby show evidence of his earnestness to lessen the hazards around which his employes are forced to work. The employe should feel that whatever is done in the way of providing safeguards is for his benefit, and, unless his full and willing co-operation is given, safeguards alone will not assure the total prevention of accidents.

Same Accidents

Practically every accident in the oil fields, and especially at the derricks, is a repetition of a similar accident occurring at the same or other parts of the field. Thoroughly acquainting the workmen with the hazards they are working under will tend to avoid a large proportion of the accidents and especially if they then use care and judgment in fulfilling their duties.

The engineers of the Bureau of Mines believe that a great deal of good can be accomplished by visiting the various oil fields, talking with the operators, superintendents, foremen and workmen regarding safety and safety appliances, and disseminating information by means of sketches, photographs and safety bulletins.

Serial 2557, "Industrial accidents in the California oil fields," may be obtained from the Department of the Interior, Bureau of Mines, Washington, D. C.

BOUGHT YOUR HOME IN GLENDALE YET?

No! Better let us show you one of these, then. Think of it, a 5-room stucco bungalow on one of Glendale's best residence streets, not an ordinary bungalow, but a wonderfully built home with everything built - in that the heart could desire; tiffany walls, real fireplace, dressing room, etc. for only $12,500, $4000 cash. Maybe you need another room if so what about this. A 6-room bungalow just as finely appointed built by the same builder and owned by the same party, for only $14,000, $4,500 cash. To see either of these homes is to create a desire to own one of them. Everything considered, no better buys in Glendale.

OUT-OF-TOWN PROPERTY

ALHAMBRA

Sickness obliges the sale of this beautiful home; large corner lot; six rooms, garage, every conceivable built-in feature. It's a shame to sell this property at $9500; $5000 cash will handle. Will also sacrifice furniture if needed. See Stanford and Crown, 1808 West Main street, Alhambra. Phone Alhambra 1477.

FROSTLESS & FOGLESS

Live to be a 100 at Grand View Ranch, Fallbrook, Cal.; 11½ acres, 7 acres in eucalyptus trees; fine for poultry; 3 acres in Mission olives, large trees; 6-room house, on top of hill wonderful view of valley and town, faces the inland paved boulevard to L. A. and San Diego; 500 feet from high school. Have to sell; $5000 takes it. Call 127 South Kenwood, Glendale.

FOUR LOTS

In Montrose, close to school and car line, on graded street; water, gas and electricity; $1050 each; $100 cash and $15 per month.
T. W. WATSON CO.
708 E. Broadway Glendale 329

TO PROTECT other interests owner must sell good income producing, 2-story building in the heart of Alhambra's business section. Lease brings good income—and at the rate property adjacent is priced—this will show a wonderful profit in 60 to 90 days over price asked. Address Box 465, Glendale News.

BURBANK

FORCED BY SICKNESS

We are offering for forty-eight hours only, a grocery and fruit depot on the San Fernando Boulevard, directly opposite the tract office of "Benmar Hills," carrying with it a lease for three and one-half years at $35.00 per month—living quarters in the rear. The stock now on hand will inventory at better than $1500.00. The whole can be bought at the "give-away" price of $3700.00 with a down payment of $2700.00 and the balance payable at $25.00 each month. The value of the lease alone is double the price asked for the whole. Immediate action is imperative and the first wise visitor receives this present. A going concern clearing $1000 each month.

COUNT FINALLY MARRIES WEALTHY ACTRESS

Former Sweethearts Recall Ambitions Of Austrian Noble

Betty Sherwood, pretty New York modiste, who says she knows Count Ludwig Salm von Hoogstraeten, of Austria, very well, declares that he once told her he hoped to win a lovely maiden with millions. He has.

He has made Millicent Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Rogers of New York, and heiress of the forty millions of the late Henry Rogers, oil king, his bride.

It may have been love at first sight, but it wasn't the Count's first love. He admits other affairs, including one with Mrs. G. S. Coffin, from whom he turned to marry Millicent. He wasn't so successful with Baroness Fern Andra of Germany and Chicago, who told him "There's lots of air outside; you can have all of it," or words to that effect, while Peggy Hopkins Joyce, the much married, says: "I never entertained him seriously; I knew he was that type of man."

Dry Leader Admits He Concealed $25,000 Gift

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—William H. Anderson, nationally known dry leader, has admitted he had concealed from the directors of the New York State Anti-Saloon league the fact that a mysterious stranger had given him $25,000 while he was head of the Anti-Saloon league in Baltimore and gave the impression he had obtained the money by mortgaging his home and borrowing on his life insurance. He has also rejected an offer to clear himself of all charges by revealing to the district attorney the name of the "generous friend."

The admission came in the midst of a grilling cross-examination by Assistant District Attorney Ferdinand Pecora, who is prosecuting the dry leader on charges of forgery in handling of the league accounts.

Suggests Inquiry of Conditions in Schools

after a junior high school had been built by the Glendale district, and this he said is one basis for opposition to a hurried consolidation without a committee learning the desires of these people in the matter.

The report of the attorney was very illuminating and he quoted facts, as he found them, not dealing in the personal equations which he said were apparent throughout the controversy. His advice was for the public to analyze the situation for itself, not relying on either the proponents' or opponents' views.

The speaker was introduced by Dan Kelty, chairman of the public affairs committee, who stated the committee desired to get an unbiased, unprejudiced report.

A report of the Rotary club's other activities will be reported tomorrow.

Rare Old Books Are Bringing Big Prices

MOUNDSVILE, W. Va., Jan. 31.—A genuine, perfect leaf from the Gutenberg Bible printed in 1450, the first book printed from movable type, is credited with being among the more than 1600 books comprising the library of F. L. Hadley, recently sold here for more than $15,477.

The library also contained, it is claimed, a copy of the Nuremberg Chronicle, printed in 1593, with a pigskin cover and iron clasps. It sold for $185, while the leaf from the Gutenberg Bible brought $155. "Voyages," by Captain Cook, printed in London in 1773, sold for $80, the first issue of the initial edition of Nathaniel Hawthorne's "Scarlet Letter" for $40, and the Fourth Folio of Shakespeare's works, printed in London in 1685, brought the highest price of the sale, $370.

Krupps Get Spanish Ship Building Site

TARRAGONA, Spain, Jan. 31.—Representatives of the Krupps arrived here today to arrange for the construction of shipyards to build merchant ships.

Ivory sights for shotguns not only aid the novice in shooting, but it is also claimed that the marksman can sight in the dark with greater accuracy.

Burglars Are Hearty Eaters, Theft Shows

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 31.—Unsuccessful in their search for money, burglars who entered the house of W. J. Wisseban, 817 O street, while the family were at the theater last night, helped themselves to a substantial meal before leaving.

When the family returned, Wisseman's mother directed attention to the front door which bore evidences of tampering. It was found the lock had been picked and every room in the house thoroughly ransacked.

Two quarts of milk, six quarts of home-brewed beer, four sirloin steaks and quantities of vegetables had vanished, while soiled dishes and empty bottles decorated the table.

Other than eatables and drinkables nothing but two pass keys were taken.

California Inventor to Get Two Millions

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 31.—A fortune of $2,000,000 is expected on January 15 by J. E. Cox, mechanic at Santa Maria, north of Santa Barbara, as a result of his invention of a process for removing carbon from oil, according to dispatches received today from Santa Barbara.

EMPLOYES' WAGES RAISED BY CITY

Council Revises Ordinance To Provide Increases In Salary List

The clerical work connected with the administration of a city that is advancing with such tremendous strides as is Glendale naturally increases with the population, and consequently the city council is frequently called upon to revise or amend ordinance 806, adopted June 25, 1923. This is known as the "salary ordinance."

The latest amendment, adopted by the council this morning, provides for several new positions and raises the salaries of numerous city employes who have retained their places with the municipality in the face of higher salaries offered elsewhere.

Especially is the increase in work noticeable in the police court, where a more stringent enforcement of the California vehicle act and the passage of the city parking ordinance has more than doubled the number of offenders who face the police magistrate at the regular semi-weekly sessions. Where Mrs. D. J. Smith, clerk of the court, with the assistance of Officer G. F. Brewster, the bailiff, used to handle the work, it now requires an extra stenographer and clerk, with the three employes crowded to the limit to have the trial docket ready on the trial mornings. During the past month an average of 125 defendants have appeared in court at each session.

Court Officials Raised

With this in view, the salary of the clerk has been raised from $125 to $150 per month, and the bailiff from $130 to $150. The pay of the extra clerk, when employed, will be $5 per day.

Leslie R. Tarr, deputy city attorney, has been appointed city prosecutor at a salary of $50 per month. He will have charge of all prosecutions for violations of the city ordinances on behalf of the city administration. At the same time the salary of Ray L. Morrow, city attorney, has been increased from $350 to $400 per month, and his stenographer from $115 to $130.

The salary of A. J. Van Wie, as title searcher, was boosted from $50 to $100 per month, which was the only change in the city clerk's force.

Authority is given for the employment of an extra clerk in the city treasurer's department at a salary of $100 per month.

Pay City Nurse

The city will now contribute $137.50 per month toward the pay of the city nurse, Mrs. E. Sadler. Fifty dollars of this amount represents the portion formerly taken care of by the Red Cross, which the city will be called upon to pay, commencing January 1.

A position of construction inspector at a salary of $7 per day is made in the public service department.

The salary to be paid the new city manager, when he is appointed, has not been decided on as yet, but it will probably represent a substantial increase over that paid the present incumbent, W. H. Reeves.

Hal C. Hardin Tells Of Tract Improvements

Glendale Heights Extension is becoming a beehive of activity these days, declares Hal C. Hardin of the realty firm of Hope-Hardin-Weldon, owners and subdividers of this scenic subdivision lying at the east end of Palmer street.

"The work of improvements starts next week," says Mr. Hardin. F. F. Joseph, a well known builder and contractor, is about to start a home. W. H. Hawkins has bought a large, sightly corner and will immediately begin erection of a $12,000 to $15,000 home. I have just received plans from the well known architect, Robert Stacy-Judd, for a $12,000 home which I myself will bulid at Glendale Heights Extension."

Mr. Hardin announces that Frank J. Weldon of the firm has arrived from Kansas City and is now actively associated with W. P. Hope and himself in the business of subdividing and selling their property.

Fifteen Co-eds to Star in Fashions Display

BERKELEY, Jan. 31.—Fifteen beautiful co-eds of the University of California will act as models in the annual Fashion Show, to be given February 15, in Wheeler hall on the campus at Berkeley. The last word in evening gowns, wraps, furs, hats and campus clothes will be displayed before the eager eyes of the 2000 women students, as well as the braver members of the male population.

Ordinarily given in the fall semester, the Fashion Show was postponed this year at the request of President Campbell, because of the Berkeley fire. Katherine Green, chairman of the social committee, has appointed Ethel Trask, prominent in campus activities, general manager of the show. The decorations committee will be headed by Lorraine Parr. Musical selections and various other forms of entertainment will complete the program.

BANDIT GETS $1500

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 31.—A lone bandit, who threatened the life of J. H. Sipprelle, assistant manager of the West Adams and Halldale street branch of the Security Trust and Savings bank, held up the institution yesterday afternoon and escaped with approximately $1500.

CHANGE IN RAIL LAW IS OPPOSED

United States C. of C. Will Support Mellon Tax Legislation

Having voted to support the provision of the Mellon tax bill in principle and against any change in the present transportation laws until they have been amply tested, delegates from the far west to the regional conference of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States held at San Francisco were today en route home.

Los Angeles was selected as the city for the next regional conference. In all twenty-two resolutions were adopted. A determined effort was made to get the conference on record on liberalization of the Volstead act, but the meeting merely referred the resolution to the national chamber without recommendation

Local Official Present

Secretary E. F. Sanders of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, returned last night from San Francisco, where he had been in attendance at the sessions of the United States Chamber of Commerce in its study of the problems that are of vital importance to the business men of the nation today.

Among the principal subjects that were discussed by nationally known experts were transportation, tax reduction, immigration and co-operative marketing, and at the banquet that was held in the St. Francis hotel on Tuesday night, Julius H. Barnes, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, made a ringing plea for a higher idealism in the building of the community and the nation.

T. L. TOTMAN GETS HIGH PROMOTION

Popular Manager of Chaffee Store Here to Supervise Chain of Sixteen

T. L. Totman, who has been manager fo the Chaffee store at 115 North Brand boulevard for the past four years, has made a host of friends in Glendale, who will be both sorry and glad to learn of his departure from the local store to assume the duties of a district management for the Chaffee company.

This promotion puts Mr. Totman over sixteen Chaffee stores, five in Hollywood and eleven in Los Angeles.

As a farewell honor to Mr. Totman a group of his associates at the North Brand store went to his home at 2306 Hermosita drive, Verdugo Woodlands, Monday night, for a surprise party.

During the evening Mr. Totman was presented with a beautiful leather portfolio, a gift from his Glendale business associates. In accepting it he spoke of the pleasure of his work in Glendale, of his appreciation for the gift and of his regret at leaving.

Angeleno to Cultivate Land With White Help

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 31.—H. S. Thresher of Los Angeles is the first man to take advantage of the situation existing in the Sacramento-San Joaquin delta, owing to the decision of the United States supreme court prohibiting further cropping contracts between landowners and Japanese.

Thresher has purchased a 360-acre tract on Drexel Island at the confluence of the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers and will locate on it and depend on white labor.

The Los Angelan does not believe that only Orientals know the secret of successfully farming the rich peat lands. Admitting conditions are somewhat different, he believes modern methods adapted to conditions will produce splendid results.

Grandson of Indian Chief Is Preacher

RENO, Nev., Jan. 31.—Avery Winnemucca, grandson of the former Indian chief, Winnemucca, and an Episcopalian missionary among his tribe, which lives on the shores of Pyramid lake, occupied the pulpit Sunday afternoon at the vesper service at St. Stephen's Episcopal church, in connection with the seventeenth annual convocation of the Episcopal diocese of Nevada.

Winnemucca spoke on "Our Indian Work," and advocated that religious work be extended among the fast disappearing remnants of Indians in Nevada.

W. C. T. U. TO MEET

The members of the W. C. T. U. will hold their regular meeting tomorrow, Friday, February 1, at the home of Mrs. J. H. Daugherty, 700 East Harvard street, at 2 o'clock. Mrs. A. W. Van Loon will give a talk on the local Japanese work.

WIFE AGAIN RETURNS TO APOSTLE OF TOLSTOY

Mrs. Charles Garland Rejoins Eccentric Husband In Primitive Home

NORTH CARVER, Mass., Jan. 31.—"Every woman should marry and have lots of children. A house without children is nothing, and a wife should be with her husband, regardless of many difficulties."

This is the philosophy of Mrs. Charles Garland who has forsaken society and luxury to join her eccentric husband at April Farm, his famous free love colony here. She who could have all the comforts she desired is doing her own housework and caring for their three children, going back to the primitive life of the others.

Only a little while ago she vowed that she would never live among Garland's "soul mates." But she has changed her mind. To one who found her bending over a washtub, her face crimson with the unaccustomed exertion, she confided:

"I know all about bringing up children, washing and all that, but about free love, well, perhaps the people in the shanty know about that."

She referred to Alice Egerton, "the Quaker mate," and Bettina Hovey, who have been working out their destiny with Garland seeking happiness. They have supplanted Lillian Conrad and Doris Benson as central figures at the "love farm" since the storm of publicity broke over it a year ago.

The love mates say they are glad Mrs. Garland has joined the colony, as Garland, they say, is not "so sad now." They live in the green hen coop close by the poverty-stricken shanty in which Garland took up his residence when he "fled from civilization." Mrs. Garland is in a four-room primitive bungalow erected for her and the children by the "apostle of Tolstoy."

Garland twice refused to accept a fortune of approximately $1,000,000, to which he was heir, asserting that wealth cannot be taken down the road to happiness. He is now sawing wood for $1.25 a cord for anyone who will hire him, and he says customers are "coming along fairly well." Unshaven, unkempt, in his dirtiest, rough corduroys and a red sweater, the young theorist is a picture that perhaps his master, Tolstoy, might enjoy.

WORK STARTS ON TWO STRUCTURES

Salmacia Bros. Will Launch Construction of New Brand Blvd. Home

Plans have been formulated by Salmacia Brothers, of the Glendale Music company, 109 North Brand boulevard, for the erection of a new home on the lot formerly occupied by the Downing & Cox nurseries at 118 South Brand boulevard, moved forward today with the announcement by Architect Alfred J. Priest that work on the new home of the firm will start today or tomorrow. The cost of the building will be $35,000, and it will be three stories in height, with terra-cotta front, built in a way that will, it is believed, take care of the rapidly expanding business of Salmacia Brothers for some time to come.

New P. E. Station

Another important addition to the North Brand boulevard buildings will be the new station of the Pacific Electric, to cost $10,000, which is to be started within the next twenty-four hours, at the site between the new building of the Security Trust & Savings bank and the Pacific Southwest Trust & Savings bank.

The new Pacific Electric station will be a one-story Class C building, and will include ticket office and waiting room for the convenience of the road's passengers.

Alfred J. Priest prepared the plans for the building.

'Somewhere in Kansas' At Glendale Theatre

"Somewhere in Kansas" in six reels—a preview of the latest Hal Roach comedy—will be seen at the Glendale Theatre in addition to the regular program tonight. There will be only one show.

This is the second comedy to be previewed at the Glendale Theatre this week and the directors and stars like Glendale audiences as critics, it seems. So let everyone be among those present tonight at the Glendale Theatre.

COOLIDGE CLANS STAGE BIG MEETS

Club Members Enthusiastic As President's Friends Rally at Angelus

A number of prominent Glendalians were among the Coolidge supporters from the Ninth Congressional district of California who last night turned out in such numbers at the "housewarming" of the Los Angeles club, held in the ballroom of the Angelus hotel on South Spring street, that is was necessary to hold an overflow meeting in the lobby.

The meeting was as much to introduce the Coolidge delegates chosen to represent the district at the big Republican national convention in Cleveland, this June, as to celebrate the launching of the Los Angeles Coolidge club.

These delegates are W. E. Evans of 333 North Orange street, Glendale, and Judge A. L. Roland fo Pasadena, with Mrs. Florence Collins Porter of South Pasadena as a delegate at large. All were present and spoke briefly.

John Robert White of 347 North Orange street, Glendale, delegate to the San Francisco convention of February 25, was also present, as was Mrs. Charles H. Toll, alternate.

Other Glendalians at last night's Coolidge demonstration included Mrs. Opal Greenwalt, secretary of the local Coolidge club, and Mrs. W. E. Evans, wife of the candidate for the national convention.

Prominent Californians present numbered among them Frank Merriam speaker of the Assembly; Frank Jordan, secretary of state for California; William May Garland, prominent Los Angeles real estate man; Frank Arnold, of Los Angeles; and Galem Welch, of Long Beach.

Boxer Wins Wife by Winning Glove Match

REDDING, Jan. 31.—Following "Kid" Higgins' victory in a glove contest before the American Legion, at its hall, during which his bride-to-be, Miss Irene G. Pollock of San Francisco was at the ringside and cheered him to victory, the young couple were married in the county clerk's offices by Judge A. F. Ross.

Higgins' comrades desired the wedding to be held in the arena prior to the contest, but his fiancee demurred to this proceeding.

"If a man can't win when his prospective bride is a witness to his efforts, I should like to know when he can," commented Higgins, when congratulated on his victory.

VENIZELOS TAKEN ILL

Pelican Editor Replies To Pastor's Criticism

BERKELEY, Jan. 31.—The editors of Pelican, magazine published by state university students, are tired of being labeled black sheep.

A San Francisco minister started it all when he lamented the depraved morals of the modern generation and insisted that steps be taken to purify the city sidestreets of affectionate couples and also intimated that petting parties are all too numerous in the campus at Berkeley.

In the lead editorial of the issue just published, Editor F. A. Fender says: The preachers say that petting is sinful. After all, it is not very safe to try to denature love—it is rather risky to tamper with nature. There's a great deal to be said for the old girl. She may not be perfect, but she's all we have, and here come two misguided emulators of Brann bawling that Love Ain't Right.

Musical Lecture to Be Feature Tonight

A musical lecture, "New Tunes for Old," by Dr. Sigmund Spaeth, will be one of the features tonight of the community sing, to take place at 7:45 o'clock in the auditorium of the old high school building.

All Glendalians are invited to participate in the sings given under the auspices of Community Service.

Alexander Stewart is to lead the singing and Mrs. Helen Sawyer will serve as accompanist.

TELLS WRECKAGE BY JAP TEMBLOR

Dr. J. C. Shedd Says Shipping Interests Heaviest Losers in Quake

Writing from Yokohama, in a letter to Dr. J. C. Shedd of 203 West Colorado boulevard, C. I. Ritchey of Eagle Rock, now on a tour of the world with Mrs. Ritchey, declares that Japanese shipping interests have been the heaviest losers in the earthquake and fire of last September.

"Just imagine Los Angeles wiped out from the North Main street bridge to Avenue 20 and from Boyle Heights to Hollywood," the letter says in part, "and you will get some idea of the appalling, colossal ruin that is Yokohama.

"Occasionally a house stands, but burned out. The people are working day and night in clearing up and a good many streets are open. The people seem to me quite cheerful and hopeful. Much has been done for them, and much more could be done. As to the number of lives lost that will never be known. Seven bodies were taken out of one building yesterday. I could tell you more but this is sufficient.

Visit Tokyo, Too

"We were up in Tokyo two days, and they have not suffered in proportion as this place, but they suffered greatly. We were carried to one place, something of a market place, where it is estimated 30,000 went for safety, but it proved to be fatal on account of the high wind that carried the heat all over that place and they were all destroyed.

"We have been here in Yokohoma four days and we have gone from here to other places. In the morning we leave for Kobe. On Christmas day we went up to Niko, going through a beautiful farming section. The Y. M. C. A. had exercises we missed. On our ship 10,000 Christmas boxes for the children were given out. Am afraid I'm making my letter too long, so many things I could write about. If you want to read any part of this to our class you do as you think best. We want our trip to be enjoyable and profitable not only to ourselves but others. We are very thankful to Him that we are permitted to make the trip."

Dr. Dirks Passes

The death on Saturday, January 19, 1924, of Dr. Charles B. Dirks of 118 Rowland avenue, who served during the war as a captain in the Medical department, is mourned by the entire community, as he held a high place not only in the professional world but in the brotherly esteem of a legion of friends in all walks of life.

Dr. Dirks' death was particularly tragic, in view of the fact that it occurred during the absence of Mrs. Alice Dirks, his wife, who was in Chicago, accompanying the body of her mother to Wisconsin for burial. "He left his mark among men," said the official publication of Occidental college, where he held the professorship of mental hygiene."

Dr. Charles B. Dirks was born December 15, 1877, at Plano, Ill. He was a graduate of Lyons Township High school, La Grange, Ill., of the Chicago university and Rush Medical college, and had studied medicine at Berlin and Goettingen, Germany.

Following a highly successful career in Illinois, he came to California in June of 1913 and has since practiced medicine generally in Los Angeles and particularly in Eagle Rock. He was at the time of decease, a member of the Lunacy Commission of Los Angeles superior court and a senior on the staff of the Los Angeles County hospital, and in addition president of the Glendale Medical association.

Dr. Dirks was a member of the First Baptist church of Los Angeles, Masonic lodge and Eastern Star, Eagle Rock; American Legion, American and State Medical association, and the Los Angeles University club. He is survived by his dife, Mrs. Alice Thompson Dirks; his mother, Mrs. Henrietta Dirks; and two sons, Maitland and Dempster Dirks, aged 14 and 11 years, respectively.

Customs Officials to Make Plant Inspection

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 31.—Three United States customs officials at Tia Juana have been appointed to assist the federal horticultural board in the inspection of certain plant products from Mexico, which might carry injurious agricultural pests, according to information received by G. H. Hecke, director of the state department of agriculture.

Special attention will be directed to inspection of passengers' baggage for prohibited material, in co-operation with L. E. French, quarantine official at San Diego. Mangoes, oranges and numerous other "host" fruits of the dreaded Mexican fruit fly are frequently intercepted by United States customs officials at Tia Juana.

What Kipling Said of Thrift

"All the money in the world is of no use to a man or his country if he spends it as fast as he makes it. All he has left is his bills and the reputation of being a fool. . . . There's nothing fine or funny in throwing away cash on things you don't want, merely because the cash is there.

"Savings represent much more than their mere money value. They are proof that the saver is worth something himself. Any fool can waste, any fool can muddle, but it takes something of a man to save, and the more he saves the more of a man does it make of him. Waste and extravagance unsettles a man's mind for every crisis; thrift, which means some form of self-restraint and continence, steadies it."

—Rudyard Kipling.

Organized Effort Vital To Success In Business, Is Message to Realtors

By RALPH A. LYND
Of The Evening News Staff.

"Real estate office organization and management" formed the topic of the address delivered before the Glendale Realty Board at their regular weekly meeting in the Egyptian Village yesterday by M. Walters, of the firm of Barnum & Walters, 200 East Broadway, in the second lecture of the board's educational course that has been arranged by the committee under the chairmanship of George D. McDill.

"Every real estate office," declared Mr. Walters, "should be organized in such a manner that authority in various departments shall be delegated to men who will be responsible for the management of their own branches of the work. Many men who are apparently successful in the real estate business, as in other lines, may appear to achieve their success without having any organization, but it is certain that those men are working toward a definite end and with a definite program in their minds.

"Success can only be secured through organized effort, with every member of the organization pulling together toward one clearly defined end."

Specialists

Mr. Walters stressed the importance of employing specialists to run each department of a real estate office, as no man, he contended, could handle half a dozen lines of work and give his entire attention to any one or make it show the results that the head of the firm has a right to expect. He also urged the keeping of accurate records on every transaction that passes through the office of a real estate broker, showing every detail in connection with every deal that is made, so that these records may be referred to at any time.

The books of a real estate office, he declared, must reflect accurately what every man in the organization is doing, and departments that fail to pay their way should be ruthlessly cut off or reorganized so that they will pay.

"There isn't a merchant in Glendale," asserted Mr. Walters, "no matter how small an establishment he occupies or how small a business he is doing, who does not keep a much more accurate and detailed record of his transactions than do the real estate men of the city, and there is not an industry in Glendale that is handling anything like the volume of business that the realtors of Glendale are handling year in and year out."

Pearson to Lecture

The next lecture in the educational course, to be delivered on February 11 by Secretary James W. Pearson, will deal with "Renting." Next week's meeting of the board will be devoted to the regular business session, and President Peter Hanson stated that a lengthy program awaits the consideration of the members.

S. C. Kinch, in charge of the advertising in connection with the adoption of the listing service that goes into effect tomorrow, reported for his committee and urged that every member on the board co-operate to the fullest extent to make the system a success.

M. H. Lounsberry, who was president last year of the Realty Board of Hamilton, Ontario, Canada, spoke briefly and predicted that the listing service will prove an unqualified success in Glendale. Mr. Lounsberry is here at present visiting his mother, Mrs. M. S. Lounsberry, 543 North Louise street, and who makes her permanent home in Glendale.

A request that members of the Glendale Realty Board employ ex-service men whenever possible was made by E. P. Hayward, who stated that the American Legion is endeavoring to secure employment for as many veterans of the war as possible, irrespective of whether they are members of the Legion or not.

Railways Attempt to Reduce Wages, Likely

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Justice Hooling in district court has over-ruled the demurrer of John L. Phillips, former Republican state chairman of Georgia, who was indicted along with nine others, on charges of conspiracy to defraud the government in connection with the sale of surplus lumber from army cantonments. The accused were ordered to plead within twenty days.

MOUNT GLENDALE NAME FOR PEAK!

If Beaudry Is Official Designation for Verdugos Why Not Change It

By GIL A. COWAN
Of The Evening News Staff.

Did you ever hear of the Beaudry mountains? Likely not, but they are in Glendale!

They are none other than the green Verdugo hills the poets rave about—the spur of the Sierra Madre range which divides the lower San Fernando valley from the La Crescenta and Monte Vista valleys.

Yessirree, the Beaudry mountains are to be found on the maps of this vicinity, right where we expected to find Mount Verdugo mentioned.

Named For Owner

According to J. C. Sherer the range was named for Prudence Beaudry, a Canadian, who was one of the early settlers in Los Angeles and he owned Mount Verdugo, or most of it, back in the 70s. It is believed he acquired the property in 1870 or 1871 and the mountains don't deserve his name any more than Verdugo, Ross or Thom.

It has been suggested that inasmuch as Mount Verdugo is nothing more than a local name and that everyone knows of the green Verdugo hills, it would be fitting to call the peak Mount Glendale of the Verdugo hills. That would be much better and emulate the spirit of the neighbor community in naming Mount Hollywood after that city.

Verdugo Not Recognized

Mount Glendale would convey relative location of "the fastest growing city in America" to all who should glance at a topographical map. It would not in the least detract from the present name for just one peak. And there is no reason at all why Beaudry should appear on the modern maps, for only a street in Los Angeles gives any inkling of his having lived in Southern California.

Mr. Sherer, when interviewed regarding the various names for the nearby mountains, said:

"I do not believe Mount Verdugo is recognized officially. It is a local name."

Therefore, it would seem easy for people here to consider changing the names as they see fit. For we have taken a lot for granted, it appears.

PRE-WAR LIFE IN GERMANY IS TOLD

Mrs. Harriet Bratring, New Glendale Resident, Speaks of Past, Present

The cultured background of Germany in pre-war years, the luxury and happiness of Germany's official life, the sacrifices of war-time and tragedies of years that have followed are all included in the experiences of Mrs. Harriet Bratring, Glendale resident of 511 Burchett street, who returned to America June 4, 1923, after fifty years spent in Germany.

Reading like a romance, Mrs. Bratring's life during the last half century has been made up of the greatest joys and deepest sorrow.

Born in La Crosse, Wis., Harriet Schell became a talented soprano singer. Fifty years ago she crossed the Atlantic to study in Berlin, where she attained great success, singing in the royal opera for three years. While in Germany she married Paul Bratring, young German architect and government official, and they made their home in Charlottenburg, a city near Berlin.

Visit Foreign Countries

Mr. Bratring stood high in official circles and he aid his charming wife lived lives of happiness and ease. He it was who designed the majority of the prominent buildings in Charlottenburg, a city now run down, due to neglect during and since the war.

Mr. and Mrs. Bratring were lovers of travel, and in their journeys through various foreign countries he sketched scenes of interest, and these water color sketches are now prized treasures of his wife in her little Glendale home.

Mr. Bratring's death occurred just before the war, and his wife lived alone in Germany all through the great world conflict and through the revolutionary days since.

According to Mrs. Bratring's experiences, conditions in Germany today are beyond description. Food and fuel are at a premium, people are starving on every hand and the country is in such a state of degradation that it will take 100 years or more to get back to pre-war conditions.

"Not Ready For Republic"

"Germany is not ready to be a republic," says Mrs. Bratring. "It should have been left as it was. There are no immigrants over there. The majority of the population is the same and should not have been brought under a republic."

In telling of the exorbitant prices in Germany today Mrs. Bratring told of having a sick sister and going out to find food for her. "I went out to the country to get an egg," she says, "and I had to fairly beg for one, for which I paid $2. By now I suppose eggs are probably $10 a dozen."

She says all foods are high, butter perhaps $5 a pound and potatoes $1 a pound.

Mrs. Bratring left Germany May 27, 1923, and arrived in America June 4. Each day she receives letters from dear friends in Germany telling of the tragedies they are facing.

In her little home on Burchett street she possesses some real art treasures, work done by her husband and by other German artists, whose names are written in the world's art history. Among her possessions is a collection of wonderful etchings.

MOTORIST FLEES AFTER ACCIDENT

Pedestrian Struck by Auto Brought to Hospital For Treatment

Verne Simms, 629 West Court street, Los Angeles, while walking north on San Fernando road last night on his way to Bakersfield was struck and knocked down by a fast-driven car near the Burbank city limits. The driver did not stop, according to the report of Officer Thomas McGuire.

Simms was picked up by A. M. Wold, 35 Tujunga avenue, Burbank, and brought to the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital, where his wounds were given attention. He was suffering from a cut on his head and body bruises. He was later able to proceed on his way.

Deposits $250 Bail

Walter Borkman of Los Angeles yesterday deposited $250 bail for his appearance February 29 to answer to a charge of reckless driving as the result of running down J. L. Brosseau and J. K. Harris at Lomita and Brand January 26.

Mr. Brosseau, who had both ankles and his right leg broken, is doing nicely at the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital.

Car Wrecked in Crash

Detective Sergeant Charles P. Blake and Officer H. A. Stanford answered a call from Broadway and Verdugo road last night and found that a car driven by A. D. Mars, 463 Los Feliz road, had collided with a machine driven by B. R. Turner, Holly avenue, Pasadena.

No one was injured in the crash, although Turner's car was badly wrecked.

Many Initiated Into Fish Club At Glendale High

Glendale Union High school pupils are being initiated into the Fish club this week. It is quite a distinguished organization, to hear its organizers tell it.

All who join are expected to pay 10 cents initiation fee. They are assured that the star athletes, student officials, almost everybody, is a Fish.

That's where the Fish club gets its name, although there is a deep rooted suspicion on the part of many that it is a game organization, the game being to get the dime.

Every member is expected to get another, in that way getting a refund on the investment.

But it is alleged that the original organizers of the Fish club are the only ones who profit. Not so much different from almost every similar club, it it?

CHARTER DAY TO BE CELEBRATED

Glendale Music Club Plans Welcome for Head of State Federation

Charter day is soon to be celebrated by the Glendale Music club, and it is to be a big affair, according to Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, club president, who has just received a communication from Mrs. Lillian Birmingham, president of the California Federation of Music clubs, stating that she will be in Glendale for the event Friday night, February 8.

The program is not being announced, but is said to be of unusual interest.

Over 200 invitations have been sent to musicians and music lovers in Glendale and other parts of Southern California.

After the program there will be a reception and refreshments served by Mrs. Colin Cable, hospitality chairman of the club.

NEED NEW INDICTMENT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Holding that the indictment failed to show facts upon which the charges were made, Justice Hoehling, in the district supreme court has sustained the demurrers in the army cantonment conspiracy cases involving Benedict Crowell, assistant secretary of war in the Wilson administration, and six co-defendants.

PRICE IT RIGHT AND SELL IT

THE Glendale Realty Board has organized an Intensive Bureau, to be used for the handling of property that is "priced right". The Board feels that the purchaser, as well as the seller, deserves protection and, therefore, asks owners to place reasonable prices upon their properties. Members of the Board are expected to use precaution when listing for this co-operative service and only such property as is priced right should be accepted.

Prices must be fair to both seller and buyer.

Members—not the property owners—are charged a fee for each Service listing, in order that good judgment may be exercised. Thus, the buying public may rest assured that real value exists in the offerings advertised by the members of the "Listing Service" of

Woman Ready to Face Embezzlement Charge

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 31.—Tired of hiding out from authorities, Mrs. Ethel Warren, 28 and pretty, surrendered to deputy sheriffs here and explained that she was wanted at Madera, Cal., for embezzlement of $400 worth of clothing. She said she wanted to go back to Madera and face the charges against her. Mrs. Warren said her trouble arose when she quarreled with her husband, Frank Warren, and left him. She has been released in custody of her attorney until arrangements are made to return her to Madera. It was stated at the sheriff's office a $200 reward had been offered for the woman's arrest and convicton.

Woman Pleads Guilty Manslaughter Charge

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 31.— A compromise plea of guilty of manslaughter, agreed to by the state and defense attorneys, was entered today by Jeanne Carleton, bride of Edward Carleton, convicted slayer of Special Policeman Robtrt Magee. Mrs. Carleton, who was accused with her husband of Magee's death, after entering her plea, asked permission to file probation plea because of her health. The probation application will be filed Wednesday.

POISON CANDY DEATH

CHICAGO, Jan. 31.—Mrs. Edith McLean, 36, was found dead in her home here by her husband. A box of candy lay by the woman's side. Dr. Irving Porges, coroner's physician, expressed the belief that death had been caused by poisoning.

Gossip of Staff Correspondents at World Centers of Population

By GRAY STUBBS
For International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—cost" for high school students, an innovation in the movement to make good music as popular as jazz with the coming generation of critics and patrons, received its world premiere here recently.

Chicago Civic Opera stars probably never sang to a more enthusiastic and appreciative audience than that which filled the huge auditorium at the first performance. Nearly 4,000 students were there to hear "Hansel and Gretel" in English, the Humperdink opera, with whose score and story they were thoroughly familiar to judge by the appreciative silences and well-timed roars of applause.

There were children of every class and many races, and it was quite apparent they enjoyed every minute of the performance.

The piece, taken from Grimm's well-known fairy tale, was staged and presented in a manner that the youngsters might well believe that the fabled characters had come to life before their eyes. The matinee was the first step of the Civic Opera company to acquaint the children with opera in English as a foundation for knowledge of opera in general.

Before they attended the performance the students had been given instruction in the story and music of the opera by their instructors in English and music, so they could fairly understand and appreciate it.

A second number in the plan originated by the Civic Opera company was "The Snow Maiden."

"Opera at cost" is really opera at a loss, so far as the box office is concerned. The tickets were sold to the students at prices ranging from twenty-five cents to a dollar for a program entirely parallel to those for which the opera company asks, and gets, from $2 to $6 per seat and $25 for boxes.

Artists, musicians and producers gained none but altruistic returns from the venture, unless the future is considered, with a new and larger generation of opera devotees who might never have known the delights of good music but for the present "opera at cost."

G. O. P. LEADERS SEEKING EFFICIENT "KEYNOTER"

Want Spellbinder To Sound Proper Note At Cleveland Meeting

By JOHN T. LEWING, JR.
For International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Wanted: One A1 keynoter. Apply Republican headquarters.

It is now almost a tradition that the acceptance speech of the man chosen to be temporary chairman of the Republican National convention shall be the official keynote. Consequently G. O. P. chiefs are looking around for the "right man" to sound the do re mi of the session to be held in Cleveland in June.

This keynote-sounder is expected to come from the west. But the number of available men from this section isn't very large in view of the qualifications. He must not be a candidate for president. He must be a man of commanding aspect. He must be a progressive but not a radical progressive. He must be a man of prominence in the nation.

Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, who served in the capacity in the convention of 1920 which nominated Harding won't be asked to officiate this time because he is from Massachusetts, home state of the leading aspirant for the nomination, Calvin Coolidge. Senator James E. Watson of Indiana, than whom there is no better keynote-sounder and convention orator, is disqualified because he is a possible compromise candidate for the nomination.

These are the men being considered for the post: Henry Allen, former governor of Kansas and hero of "The Adventures of Henry and Me;" Representative Royal Johnson, of South Dakota; Representative Sydney Anderson, of Minnesota; Senator William E. Borah of Idaho; Senator Irvine L. Lenroot of Wisconsin, and (getting more easterly) Representative Theodore Burton of Ohio; Senators Frank B. Willis and Simeon Fess of Ohio; Senator Medill McCormick of Illinois; Albert Beveridge, former senator from Indiana.

There is a belief among certain of the G. O. P. luminaries that it would be a strategic move if a man not holding an elective office but high in the nation's esteem could be obtained to start the convention ball rolling. So far, however, they haven't hit upon anyone likely to take the job who could be expected to fill the bill.

George Wharton Pepper is considered in many ways the best keynote material in the east. He is regarded as one of the ablest of the newer senators and sanely progressive. He is a speaker of rare eloquence.

But the executive committee of the Republican national committee, with whom the choice of a temporary chairman lies, is anxious that he be a man from the country west of the Mississippi river. For it is to this section that the party leaders are convinced the convention must take its strongest appeal.

Ex-Governor Allen and Representative Anderson are calculated as equal to the task. Allen was a Bull Moose in 1912, a close personal friend of the late President Roosevelt. He was one of the minor candidates for the presidential nomination in 1920.

As for Anderson, he is recognized as one of the most promising and able younger members of the house. Though from the state which now is represented in the Senate by Henrik Shipstead and Magnus Johnson, Farmer-Laborites, he has remained regular in the house.

RESOLUTION

I have given up the habits that
I've known for many years.
And my little soul will be snow-white from now on, it appears
The friends I know will never have to give me good advice,
For I haven't got a blemish nor a single modest vice.
I have hit the straight and narrow, and I'm on that path to stay,
And I'm resolved these is no other satisfactory way.
Yes, I'm going to be a model man through nineteen twenty-four,
But it seems to me I've made these statements many times before.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

— BY HOWARD R. GARIS —

UNCLE WIGGILY'S SNEEZES

Mr. Twistytail, the gentleman pig, waddled slowly along the path until he reached the house where Uncle Butter, the goat lived.

"Tap! Tap! Tap!" knocked Mr. Twistytail on the goat's door.

"Hello! Hello! Who is there?" asked Uncle Butter.

"I am here!" grunted the pig. "I am taking a little walk for some exercise, so I won't get so fat. Uncle Wiggily said I needed more exercise than just knocking the ashes off my cigar. So, I have decided to take his advice. I'm going for a walk. Would you like to come with me?"

"Thank you, I shall be glad to come," bleated Uncle Butter. "Just wait until I put on a red necktie."

Soon the two friends were on their way, Uncle Butter skipping and hopping, because goats are always lively, and Mr. Twistytail waddling along.

"If you would walk faster you would exercise more," said the goat.

"I'm going as fast as I can," grunted the pig. "If I go any faster I'll lose my breathe and maybe not find it again."

So they walked a little further and Uncle Butter asked:

"Where are we walking to?"

"Over to Uncle Wiggily's hollow stump bungalow," grunted the pig.

"Good!" bleated Uncle Butter. "That will give our rabbit friend a chance to see if you are getting any thinner from your exercise. I hope we may find Uncle Wiggily at home."

"If we don't, we can wait for him," grunted the pig. "I shall want to sit down, anyhow."

But when they reached the hollow stump bungalow, and Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy had let him in, they heard a funny sound like:

"Ker zoo!"

"What's that?" asked Uncle Butter, looking around.

"It's Uncle Wiggily," said Nurse Jane.

"What's he doing?" grunted Mr. Twistytail.

Just then Uncle Wiggily himself entered the room where the gentleman pig and pentleman goat were standing. Uncle Wiggily had a large handkerchief in his paw.

"Hello, Uncle Wiggily!" greeted his two friends.

"Ah chung," sneezed the rabbit, covering his pink, twinkling nose with the large, white handkerchief.

"Eh! What's that he's saying?" asked Uncle Butter, turning to Mr. Twistytail.

"Im sure I don't know!" grunted the pig. "Let's ask him."

"What did you say, Uncle Wiggily?" inquired the goat.

"Ching foo!" sneezed the bunny uncle, again covering his pink nose with the handkerchief.

The rabbit and the goat gentlemen looked at each other.

"This is very strange," grunted the pig.

"Very strange, indeed," grunted the goat. "Ah! I have it!" he suddenly bleated. "Perhaps Uncle Wiggily is catching cold. Are you sneezing because you are catching cold, Uncle Wiggily?" he asked.

"Am I sneezing? Am I catching cold? Oh, no—ker-zung I am just—pung chow—I mean just playing that new Chinese game—chow moo—I-er-mah mah jongg chow choo" sneezed the rabbit gentleman, sarcastic like.

"Why, he is catching cold!" said Uncle Butter.

"He surely is!" agreed Mr. Twistytail. "And that's only a joke about him playing that Chinese game!"

"I guess so," whispered Uncle Butter.

And the Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy hurried into the room.

"Uncle Wiggily!" squeaked the muskrat lady housekeeper, "you are catching a dreadful cold—I can tell by the way you sneeze. I am going to make you a hot mustard bath and you must soak your paws in it right away."

"Oh—all right—pung chow choo!" sneezed the bunny.

Nurse Jane went in the kitchen. She came back with a yellow box.

"Please look at this, Uncle Wiggily," she said, "and tell me if it is mustard. I can't find my glasses and I can't read without them."

Uncle Wiggily read the label on the box. He took off the cover and looked inside.

"Yes," he said "It is mustard—ker-zoo!"

And he sneezed. And, just as he did so, in through the window jumped the Black Bushy Bear, hungry for ears to nibble. But Uncle Wiggily sneezed into the box of mustard and blew a lot of the hot powder into the open mouth of the Bear. The mustard got on his tongue.

Pung chow! sneezed the rabbit gentleman.

"Oh, wowchie! Owchie! Scowchie!" howled the Bear. "Let me have some ice water for my burning tongue!" And back out the window he flopped.

"Ha! Ha! Ker-foo. Mah jong jung joo!" laughed and sneezed Uncle Wiggily. "I'm glad I have a cold for it drove away the Bear!" Then he soaked his paws in hot mustard water, and soon he was much better.

Try This Way To Get Relief From Head Colds

Nothing to Swallow—You Just Melt a Little in a Spoon and Breathe in the Healing Vapors.

To stop a head cold, try this simple, direct method. Melt a little Vicks in a spoon and inhale the penetrating Vapors of Camphor, Menthol, Eucalyptus, Juniper Tar, etc. Also put a little up each nostril and snuff well back.

Another method is to heat a tin cup, put in a teaspoonful of Vicks and inhale the vapors that way. As fast as the vapors lose their strength, throw out the melted Vicks and add fresh.

Mothers prefer Vicks for their children because it avoids so much internal dosing. It can be used with perfect safety on the youngest child.

VETERANS OPPOSE COLONIZING PLAN

Welfare Board Finds Many Who Want to Choose Their Own Farms

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 31.—Discussion of the feasibility of the proposed state veterans' land settlement colony will feature a meeting of the Veterans' Welfare board, to be held in San Francisco early in February, according to announcement made today by George Stout, secretary of the board.

Land settlement experts who have had experience in the conduct of state colonies at Delhi and Durham will participate in the conference, and representatives of every organization of World war veterans will be on hand.

Oppose Colony Plan

A large number of former soldiers believe that they should be allowed to choose their individual farm, rather than be units of a group project. On this ground, objections have been raised to the expenditure of the $1,000,000 appropriation on hand until the service men have had an opportunity to be heard.

The Eskimo are not a long lived folk, the men often being prematurely old at 45, worn out by the hardship of the autumnal seal-fishing.

Three Miraculously Escape Death in Crash

POMONA, Jan. 31.—A man and two young girls narrowly escaped death here yesterday when an automobile in which they were riding was struck by a Union Pacific freight train at "Death Crossing" and completely demolished.

The man, Robert Cook, driver of the machine, which also contained Georgia Davis, 17, and Eleanor Davis, 21, sisters, was thrown from the wrecked car onto the pilot of the freight locomotive and saved his life by clinging to the front of the engine until it stopped. The girls were thrown clear of the wreckage and railroad tracks. None of the three persons, who live in San Bernardino, were seriously hurt.

Withdraw U. S. Ships from Mexican Waters

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—All American warships will be withdrawn from Mexican waters today when the cruiser Omaha and her flotilla of six destroyers leave Vera Cruz to join the fleet, the navy department has announced. Salvaging of the cruiser Tacoma is to be completed, it was stated. An inquiry into the circumstances which led into its being wrecked on the rocks off Vera Cruz will be held as soon as the survivors reach a rescue station, it was said.

LA CRESCENTA

PLAN FOR CHURCH SHOWER HELD UP

Glendale Women Decide to Postpone Ceremony Till Later Date

On account of the convention of the churches of Eagle Rock, Burbank, Glendale and La Crescenta, the Ladies' Aid of the Central and First Methodist churches of Glendale have postponed their intended shower to the Ladies' Aid of the Montrose Community church till a later date.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith have been entertaining as their week-end house guests, Elizabeth Buckingham, Pauline and Lee Gates, of Long Beach, and Virgil Jessen of Bakersfield. These young people are friends of Miss Marian Keith.

Mrs. Bennett has removed her husband, Elmer T. Bennett, to Riverside, at his request. Mr. Bennett, who has been ill for some time, expressed a desire to return to their old home in the inland town.

Start Rehearsals

Rehearsals for the country skit entitled "Si Slocum's Country Store," began last night. All the performers anticipate a jolly good time during rehearsals; in fact, the specialties being presented by the different characters are laugh-producers. The play is to be given the first of March, to raise money for the Parent-Teacher association, and will be given in the local school auditorium. The rehearsals take place every Tuesday, Thursday and Friday evening, at the Sparr Heights community house.

Don't forget tomorrow night is the community sing in Montrose schoolhouse this week. The main attraction for the evening is the well-known John Anderson of Los Angeles. Mr. Anderson is a tenor of years of concert experience, and through his friendship with Mr. Prosper, the sing director, has promised to come up to entertain the chorus. These brilliant artists are being secured to entertain you gratis, and all the director and manager of the sing, Mr. Prosper and Mrs. Hopkins, ask of you is that you show your appreciation by coming at 8 o'clock promptly, as the sing is limited to one and one-half hours, Thursday night, Montrose school.

A recent newcomer to our valley, Fred Kimball, passed away at his home on Michigan avenue, Sunday, January 27. Mr. and Mrs. Kimball bought the Czerniski residence, with five acres of grounds, during the late fall. Mrs. Fred Kimball became a member of the Women's club, and seemed to be very much at home here. Mr. Kimball leaves a wife, Maren A. Kimball; Mrs. Arthur Godin, his daughter, and Dr. Donald F. and Merritt P. Kimball of Los Angeles.

The Vedanta Centre have moved their headquarters from Boston to their beautiful 140-acre estate at the head of Pennsylvania avenue. So much interest has been evinced in the beautiful philosophies as taught by Swami Paramanada, that 135 people attended last Sunday's open meeting. People of all sects and from all places journey to the Peace Retreat on Sunday for the 3 o'clock services. The retreat is now open to the public every afternoon during the week. The Vedantists expect to begin the building of the main auditorium on the grounds in a very short time. Many prominent Bay City people have moved out here to live at the centre.

Swami Paramanada extends a cordial invitation to all to be present on Sunday afternoon—his subject for the service being "Higher Consciousness and How to Attain It."

BURBANK

RECKLESS MOTOR DRIVERS SCORED

Accidents Rouse Police to Insist on Stringent Law Enforcement

With trucks prominent in numerous recent accidents within this city, one of which resulted in the death of John Blasingame and the holding of E. L. Brenot on a charge of manslaughter, authorities here are becoming incensed over the criminal negligence and recklessness displayed by many drivers, particularly along San Fernando boulevard.

The fatal crash was caused by Brenot's car trying to pass a truck and trailer, and colliding with a car from the opposite direction, hurling the deceased to the street, where he alighted on his skull, dying instantly.

Recently three other accidents of a similar character have been reported to the Burbank police. One was when Mrs. Margaret D. Brady of Sunset canyon and H. J. Aldinger, in a light coupe, struck a truck and smashed a right hind wheel, escaping serious injury by a narrow margin.

Another accident that might have caused a fatality was when C. A. Samson of Glendale collided with a truck, and a third was when Ben Sater of Burbank crashed into a truck.

"War!" Says Chief Long

"Almost every day some hairbreadth escape is reported to us," says Chief John H. Long of the Burbank police department. "How some people manage to survive, operating motor cars the way they do, is a mystery to me. An automobile in the hands of an inexperienced or reckless driver is one of the most potent weapons for destruction known to modern civilization, and the daily toll of life taken on the city streets and country highways of America by this weapon is simply appalling.

"Death and injury by automobiles exceed all the totals of murders, suicides and other accidents, amounting in the aggregate to a casualty list, day by day, month by month and year by year, such as only a devastating and endless war could produce. We are at war, and have been, against the reckless motorists; and until we wake up and take arms against him there will be no peace in the land."

Cascade Faces Gallows

Francisco Cascade, who on November 29, 1923, shot and killed Oscar Longfellow, a San Fernando motorcycle officer, will hang. Such is the verdict of the second jury he has faced. The deliberation required two hours, after which a verdict of first degree murder was returned.

The jury in the first trial had reported six for the death penalty and six for life imprisonment.

The slain motorcycle officer had arrested Cascade for a misdemeanor, in itself a minor offense. Viciously choosing to fling not only the officer's but his own life away, he fired the fatal shot.

When condemned by the solemn words of the foreman of the jury, Cascade never moved a muscle of his face, it is reported, showing utterly no emotion. It is wilful, vicious criminals such as these who go to their justice with the hearty congratulation of the public, feel those who have followed this case.

Dollar Negotiates for Ten Ships' Purchase

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—R. Stanley Dollar, Pacific coast shipping magnate is in Washington personally conducting negotiations with the United States Shipping board for the purchase of ten passenger vessels, it has been learned.

Five of the ships he is seeking are now being operated by his own line, the Admiral-Oriental, between Seattle and the Orient, and five are in the Pacific Mail fleet operating between San Francisco and the Orient. Dollar's offer is for "all ten or none." The amount of his offer was not revealed.

Diet and Health

SPIRITUALITY VS MATERIALITY

ARTIFICIAL RESPIRATION

Yesterday I gave you an article on gas poisoning. I am following this with an article on artificial respiration as a treatment for gas poisoning. This method of artificial respiration is also used for reviving drowning persons, or persons suffering from electric shock and other accidents that suspend the breathing.

Everyone should know this method. Even children can be taught it, and many lives can be saved, for every moment of delay is serious and waiting for the doctor or someone else who knows the method of resuscitation, may prove fatal. It will be necessary for you to practice this on someone before you will be able to use it effectively, so it is a good idea to do that.

The most effective method for resuscitation is the "Prone Pressure" method. It is as follows: (If alone with the victim, begin resuscitation immediately and continue it. Do not stop to call a doctor. Start at once, for the first few moments are very valuable. If there is another person present, send him for the doctor. Do not even stop to loosen the victim's clothing).

1. Quickly examine the victim's mouth and remove anything that is removable—false teeth, tobacco, chewing gum, etc.

2. Lay the patient on his stomach with both his arms extended over his head. Turn his face to one side so that his nose and mouth are free for breathing.

3. Kneel astride the patient over his hips. (One knee on one side of him and the other on the other).

4. Place the palms of your hands on the small of his back so that the tips of your fingers are just out of sight around his side, with the little finger just touching the last rib. Hold your arms straight.

5. Swing the weight of your body forward on the patient, keeping your arms stiff while you count one, two—about the time of a second a count.

6. While counting three, return to the upright position, removing your weight and pressure from the patient, but do not remove your hands. Rest long enough to count four, five.

Repeat these procedures, the swinging forward and back, twelve to fifteen times a minute, making a complete respiration in four to five seconds. You can time this by your own breating. While you are coming back, count three, four five, and breathe out.

As soon as you begin the artificial respiration, and while you are doing it, if anyone else is present let them loosen any tight clothing about the patient's neck, chest, or waist, and then keep the patient warm by covering his limbs with blankets or by rubbing them.

Keep up the artificial respiration without interruption until the patient begins to breathe or until the physician states that rigor mortis (stiffening of the body) has set in, which will denote death. Do not give up hope until this stiffening does take place. People have been resuscitated after being worked upon for eight or nine hours, or even longer. The patient should be watched very carefully after breathing begins, and if it stops, the resuscitation should be again repeated.

Your assistant, if you have one, may do as follows:

1. Place a cloth saturated with ammonia or smelling salts near the patient's nose, first trying out the distance that it will not strangle on his own nose.

2. He should hit the patient's shoe heels a few times with a stick, and repeat this operation every five minutes until breathing commences.

3. Keep the patient warm.

Do not move the patient until he is breathing normally without assistance. If absolutely necessary to move him, he should be placed on a hard surface, such as a door or floor of a conveyance. But you must not stop or interrupt the resuscitation for an instant.

This Prone Pressure method is much superior to the one called the Sylvester method, in which the patient is placed upon his back and his arms swung alternately above his head and down across his chest, because the Sylvester method quickly tires the person applying it and is also unsuccessful in filling the patient's lungs with air.

My Dear Followers:—When sending for material which we offer you, please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose four cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible, if they are of general interest. Don't forget the s. a. s. e. if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

SERBIAN BEAUTY ENJOYING LIFE

But Problem Puzzles Perplexed Professor

Olga Yosipovitch

NEW YORK, Jan. 31. — Olga Yosipovitch is having a fine time.

Olga is a pretty Serbian girl whose winning ways have entangled her in a strange controversy.

She was sent to this country when quite young by the Serbian International Educational association with the understanding that she would return to her native country to do welfare work after her studies were completed.

Time went by and Olga became a cloak model, earning $30 a week and having the time of her life. Olga had learned enough—too much, it was decided, so she was sent back to Serbia.

Of course a girl isn't going to be content to stay in Belgrade or Szybkoptyex after she has seen Broadway. Olga penned a touching letter to Prof. Sidney K. Wolf of Yale university, pleading for another chance and asking for money to return to this country.

But now Prof. Wolf is a sadly perplexed man. What to do?

When Olga got back to this country she asked him to marry her so she would be allowed to remain—immigration laws are awfully strict, you know.

Prof. Wolf has placed her case in the hands of the Immigration commissioner with a silent prayer.

Meanwhile Olga is having a fine time.

BEAUTY CHATS

by EDNA KENT FORBES

A CHAT ABOUT SOAPS

A great many people think that any sort of soap will do; the function of soap being to remove grease from the skin, the stronger it is, the better. This is all wrong. A soap may be good to take dirt from paint, but it is the worst thing possible to use on the face.

Good soaps are made from pure fresh fats. They are free from an excess or either alkali or heavy cocoanut oil, and they always lather freely except when the water is unusually hard. Castile soap is a soda soap made with olive oil; imitation castile is made from cocoanut oil instead of olive oil. Cocoanut oil is not particularly good for the skin; olive oil is. Therefore, purchase a good quality castile soap if you buy it at all. It is not necessary to get an expensive imported brand, however.

"Green soap" is a potash soap made from linseed oil and alcohol. It is a soft soap containing a good deal or alkali. For this reason it cuts grease readily and can be used for very oily scalps and for blackheads, though care must be taken, for it is irritating if used too much. "Tincture of green soap" is merely the same soap dissolved in still more alcohol, therefore more drying. Very expensive grades are made from cotton seed or olive oil and are much better to use.

There are literally hundreds of brands of medicated soaps. Most have green or castile soap as a base, and contain tar, camphor, sulphur, carbolic or other antiseptic or medicinal preparations. On the whole, it's better to ask your doctor before you experiment with expensive medicated soaps. Price is a good indication of quality, but not an infallible one. A good quality cannot be made cheaply. A very expensive quality is only good soap in a costly box with costly perfume.

Flossie: There is no way to train the lashes to curl.

Take cod liver oil to increase your weight, and drink plenty of milk and thereby increase the amount of butter with your meals. As you build up your legs and arms will fill out.

F. A.: Sage tea merely tints the white hairs to a pale yellow shade. Henna is more effective than sage for this work.

Brown Haired: Keep the little girl's hair cropped quite short for a time, and use oil of sassafras on the scalp whenever there is a recurrence of the trouble. The shampoo you are using is very drying to the scalp, and much too strong for the fine hair of a young child. Castile soap is necessary for this purpose.

Co-worker: If you remove the hair on your arms it comes in coarser, so it is much better to keep it bleached with peroxide when wearing transparent or short sleeves.

Tomorrow—Freckles.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes, in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however owing to the great number received. So, if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

With the Women of Today

By MRS. LILIAN CAMPBELL

Mrs. Helen Howell Moorhead, wife of Dr. John J. Moorhead, eminent New York surgeon, is lecturing in various cities of the country on the dangers of the opium traffic. She is the secretary of the opium committee of the Foreign Policy Association.

Mrs. Moorhead is a graduate of Bryn Mawr college and later studied at the University of Grenoble, France. As a member and active worker of the New York State Charities Aid Association Mrs. Moorhead, before the war, had her attention brought to the narcotic addicts on Blackwell's Island. During the war she was superintendent of surgical dressings at the Red Cross national headquarters in Washington.

Forty states are now co-operating with the federal government under the terms of the Shepard-Towner Maternity and Infancy act to reduce the death rate among mothers and babies throughout the United States. Through this act congress is authorized to appropriate $1,240,000 annually for the welfare of maternity and infancy, and its administration is lodged in the Children's Bureau of the Department of Labor, of which Grace Abbott is head. The only states that have not accepted the provisions of the act are Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Maine, Louisiana, Illinois, Kansas and Connecticut. Extension of the act to benefit the mothers and babies of Alaska, Hawaii, Porto Rico and the Philippines is recommended by a recent report by Miss Abbott.

Appalling infant death rates in the island possessions of the United States "make indifference on the part of this country impossible," Miss Abbott states.

Mrs. Rebecca Felton, first woman senator in American history, says: "If hats cost less, husbands would last longer. If more women would limit their expenditures on their latest style bonnets there might be fewer divorces. Of course, happy marriages are not just a matter of how much a woman pays for a hat, but the extravagant trait of a woman will crop out in that direction more quickly than in any other."

The allspice berry is gathered before becoming fully ripe, for if allowed to mature some of the aroma is lost.

ENJOYED A GOOD NIGHT'S SLEEP

"I wish to say that FOLEY'S PILLS worked O. K. on me in a couple of hours and the pains left me at once. I took a couple of them in the afternoon, went to bed and had a good night's sleep and have slept good ever since," writes Con Thiel, 118 E. Columbia St., Fort Wayne, Indiana. FOLEY'S PILLS are a diuretic stimulant for the kidneys and will increase their activity. Refuse substitutes. Heart and Home Problems

By MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

HUSBAND BEATS HER

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a married lady, 20 years old. I have a baby 16 months old. I love my baby very much, but my husband does not make my home happy. He curses me and beats me. I always get the blame for everything that goes wrong. He often goes away and gambles and doesn't come back all night. He does not treat my mother with respect and doesn't even speak to her.

There is another man two years my senior who is liked by every one. He tells me he loves me and could make my baby and me much happier. My mother and father think an awful lot of him because he has always been so good to them. I think more of him than my husband because my husband is so mean to me that I am afraid of him.

I cannot go on living like this because I am so unhappy. My husband never wants to take me any place and gets angry when I go with my friends.

Please advise me what to do.

TROUBLED.

From what you say, you have every reason to leave your husband and obtain a divorce. No self-respecting woman is willing to put up with a man who beats her. I think, however, that it is wrong for you to remain with your husband and encourage another man in his love for you. Until you are divorced you owe it to yourself and your child to be true to your husband. It seems to me there must be something lacking in the other man's code of honor or he would not talk of love to you.

A LOVERS' QUARREL

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl 16. I met a fellow of 19 and we went together for three months. Then we quarrelled and broke up for two weeks. After that he made up and we went together rather steady for two more months. He was rather jealous of me.

One night I went with another fellow and he thought that was awful. He said we would have to break up and so now we have not gone together for five months. He has always said I was a respectable girl.

Now he wants to make up with me for the third time. I really love him. I have gone with many other fellows, but don't think any are like him. My folks think he is all right. Do you think it would be all right for me to go back with him or not? Do you think he really loves me?

Would there be any harm if I did not go back with him and we were just friends?

BRIGHT EYES.

The young man does not really love you or he would not quarrel and stop going with you so easily. Since you care for him, I would advise you to let him come back, but make it thoroughly understood when he comes that you have no intention of going with him exclusively and insist on having other friends as well. There is no reason why you should not be friends even if you do not go together.

PROPER

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Is it proper for a young girl to ride in the front seat between two boys if the entire back seat is empty?

THANK YOU.

Yes; such a thing is often done so that one person will not have to ride alone.

Coffee Lemon Gelatine

I wonder if all my Readers have seen the new sash-ribbon bags? They are either for fancywork or for carrying snap-purse and small parcels on the street. Of course the quality of the ribbons used, determines, in a large measure, the use to which the bag may be put.

Materials:—Buy one yard of heavy silk "sash-ribbon" (that is, any ribbon nine inches wide). Sew the two ends together, thus forming a long loop of the yard of ribbon. This seam, joining the two ends, forms the extreme bottom of the bag.

The top of the bag (that is the top of this long loop) is turned into a handle by pleating (the pleating narrows it). This handle-loop slips on over the arm when the bag is carried. All that remains to do now, to complete the bag, is sew the edges of the ribbon together, on either side, to within eight inches of the top of the loop-handle.

In other words, the bag resembles a basket which has straight lines and a broad handle. It has no lining—a point which will appeal to the woman who has ever made a lined bag! It is undecorated save for feather-stitching on the pleats of the handle. These pleats are placed as follows: Make a rather wide box pleat in the center of the loop-handle; then make two small, plain pleats (facing out) on either side of the box pleat.

It is hard to describe such an article as this without an illustration to help me, but if any Reader Friend cannot grasp the shape of the bag from this explanation, I will gladly send her a rough, small pencil drawing of it upon receipt of a stamped and self-addressed envelope. (This drawing is not a pattern, but merely a two-inch size sketch on a sheet of paper). Keep these directions as I have no reprints to accompany the sketch.

I said that the quality of ribbon purchased, would determine the appropriate use of this bag. By that I mean that a very expensive variety of ribbon—such as Persian or tinsel ribbon or ribbons with cut-velvet patterns, would make a theatre bag; heavy ribbed silk ribbons, in fairly dark colors, would make a bag appropriate for street wear; and thinner silk ribbons in brighter colors would make a pretty fancywork bag.

Tomorrow:—Some Good French Dishes.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman in care of the "Efficient Housekeeping" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So, if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question. Be sure to use your full name, street number, and the name of your city and state.—The Editor.

Says Ordinary Buttermilk Best For Freckles, Sunburn and Tan

Advises Old Time Recipe of Buttermilk Cream in a New Way—"A Gentle Massage with Fingers Before Retiring is All That Is Necessary."

Buttermilk and Cream—Simple Remedies Best—Keeps Face, Hands and Arms in Exquisite Condition—Soft, Smooth and Beautiful

The old-time application of Buttermilk and Cream to whiten and preserve the skin and remove harsh little wrinkles and ugly sallowness is grandmother's recipe and women throughout the country are again using it to ensure a beautiful complexion and snow-white hands and arms.

Buttermilk, however, is not always obtainable, but a specialist has at last perfected a method of concentrating buttermilk and combining it with a perfect cream, which you can buy in small quantities ready to use at any first class drug store by simply asking for "Howard's" Buttermilk Cream.

There is no secret about it nor is there any doubt about the result—it's just a common ordinary buttermilk in the form of a wonderful cream. That's all. Howard's Buttermilk Cream gently massaged with the finger tips around the corners of the eyes and mouth.

To get the best effect, be sure to follow the simple directions. Druggists guarantee a noticeable improvement after the first application or they will refund the money.

ADMITS NEED OF CZAR OF BOXING

Tex Rickard Would Welcome Supreme Ring Ruler to Boost Game

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service.

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—Another Landis to lead the innocents of boxing into the promised land of prosperity and rectitude, would be as welcome as payday with Tex Rickard, according to a statement made by that worthy gentleman today.

Among other things, Rickard declared himself to be figuratively arm in arm with Senator Jimmy Walker's proposition for a supreme head of all boxing in this country but disagreeing with the senator's statement that the game is "staggering on its last legs."

Scores Hysteria

"I fail to see where boxing is in a bad way," Rickard declared. "There's nothing the matter with the game and everyone should know it. When has boxing been more prosperous and more carefully conducted? I, for one, think there has been entirely too much hysteria about the need for reforms."

However, the promoter did not hesitate to say that this statement was not to be confounded with opposition to the Walker project. On the contrary, he declared it to be the most logical move that might be made.

"When baseball elected a high commissioner, it was very much in need of a man who could restore confidence in, and reflect it upon the sport," he said. "It, therefore, went out after Judge Landis and got him. Since then there hasn't been the faintest breath of suspicion against baseball and rightly so. If Landis never did anything else, he earned his salary by re-establishing the confidence of the public.

"Besides he has done more than that. He has shown in every way that he conducted the game in absolute fairness and impartiality and that he is for honesty of purpose and action at all times.

"To say that boxing needs such a man is to commit a bromide," Rickard added. "Name such a man and one of these fine days the plan will begin to develop and then you will see everyone hurrying to line up behind the band wagon."

Occidental Net Aces Seek Places on Team

Tennis season for Conference colleges opens February 17 and already the representative teams are working hard to be in perfect form for the coming clashes. Occidental's tennis prospects have been warming up since the beginning of the year and a Round Robin will be held next Monday to decide the first five men. Three varsity lettermen are back and so there will only be one place to fill. Palmer, Finnell, and Boice are the stars of last year. They all hail from Pasadena where tennis players are made. The fourth position on the team is between four fellows, Hess, Creighton, Daniels, and Raymond. Walter Westbrook, Canadian champion, is helping the boys during his spare time.

Stanford Out of Penn. Relay Games This Year

PALO ALTO, Jan. 31.—Stanford will not compete in the Penn relay games this spring, as the Cardinal and California will meet in their annual classic on April 26, which precludes their appearance.

The two universities are promoting an all-western relay carnival, the tentative date and place of which is set for May 10 at the Blue and Gold oval at Berkeley. All coast colleges and universities will be invited to send representatives.

May 10 is an open date with most of the track aggregations and a contest on that day would serve as a good termination to the season on the coast. Following this after a short interval will be held the national meets in the east, in which California and Stanford will probably compete.

Rumors, Denials, Alibis

By F. A. GRAHAM

Americans go wozzy over Mah Jong and Chinese go wozzy over feetball. This must be what the statesmen call reciprocity. Now comes the game for the state championship Chinese football team, to be played between the Fresno and Oakland Chinese at San Francisco February 3. After which we will make ourself famous by picking an All-Queue team. Won't Walter Camp et al. be jealous?

A newspaper says "Much merriment was caused by the 'hard times' costumes in which the guests were retired." What sort of a party was that? This was not in Hollywood. Some of these indoor sports will bear watching, but be careful and only risk one optic.

Squash racquets will be inaugurated this year as an international sport. An English team is on the way over on one of the canal boats plying between New York and Lunnon. An international championship event will take place February 9, in which Canada, England and the United States will take part. Then there will be exhibition games played at—say, there are a lot of you who are not giving the squash racquet very close attention. Just for that we won't tell you the terribly exciting news about where the exhibition games are going to be played. We hope you expire of curiosity.

An oldtimer still maintains that hoss racing is the popular sport. Far be it from us to dispute the word of an elderly gentleman, but how come 2000 at Culver City and 10,000 at Ascot last Sunday?

Co-eds of the University of Pennsylvania have organized a polo team, and in practice they show good form, if you comprehend the expression. At a given signal they draw up in photographic formation and show their tootsies to the camera man, thereby vindicating the advertisers of Rosy rouge, Puff's powder, Molar's dentifrice and Wingate's wireless hairpins. Other articles widely advertised were in evidence also, but we're a married man and diplomacy is the better part of valor, so we'll not mention the hosiery that the photographer saw.

Those polo-playing co-eds of the U. of Penn. are going to have to travel swift to keep themselves from being outphotographed by the lady lacrosse players who will be with us at Exposition park, Los Angeles, February 9. Just saw a photo of the Hurons, a team of girl lacrosse players, and wish to report that the view did our eyes plenty of good. The Canadian Tourists' Society has arranged for games to decide the championship of America and Canada. The Iroquois are to represent Greater Los Angeles. It is the plan of the Canadian Tourists' Society to introduce lacrosse here as an all-year sport. There are four teams in the Ladies' Lacrosse League of America and they are composed of college girls. According to the announcement, the seats and parking at Exposition park will be free. In these days of high prices and war taxes that will be hard to take. From advance information there will be plenty of takers, as one college has voted for a thousand seats. Those college boys are not going to miss anything, believe us.

If boxing doesn't hurry up and die or get well some of the patient readers are going to have to go out and do a murder. One day the game is well fortified in New York, where it is controlled. Next day a very sickly sensation overtakes boxing and pallbearers begin to put on their gloves. Then a couple of days more and the game is convalescing again and expected to be chipper in a week. What are those New York writers trying to hand us, anyway? This morning they are squawking for a Kenesaw Mountain to cure boxing of what ails it. Chances are that before this can get off the press another story will come through saying that the pulse is normal and the patient is again eating thrice daily. If some entirely disinterested person took an X-ray they might find that the trouble is all in the box office. Our diagnosis is indigestion from gobbling too much kale.

According to reports emanating from Esthonia, a whistling post over on the Russian trunk line some place, it would appear that some of our demon movie publicity men have migrated to that jolly country. Here the other day came the story that Esthonians were going wozzy about billiards, but they were slightly handicapped. Seems that they have a table, all right, but when the gay young blades chalked up they found there were no balls. But that trifle is no buttons off an Esthonian's vest. Not much. They went out and dug up three baseballs and caromed those around on the table in place of the regular ivory knobs. Pass the asperin and we will try to think up an answer to that one.

An inquisitive fan rises to ask about Plummer and Pigg, two young pitchers who will be with Seattle this year. Nosy wants to know if they ever play in the Pipefitters' league. He says his sink got stopped up once and the man who went to fix it called himself Plummer, but Nosy thinks his name must have been Pigg. Nosy claims that Pigg, in the Pipefitters' league, is junior for Hogg, which is only another way of saying that Hogg is senior for Pigg. In other words, Pigg, when he grows up, will be a—s-a-y, get away from that fireplace, Nosy, your corns are popping.

Tickling is caused by pressure, and itching comes from the nerves of pain, says a professor in Germany.

Wilkie Clark Named Oxy Baseball Coach

Wilkie Clark, former University of Maine baseball star, and who has been playing and coaching for thirty years, has been appointed varsity coach at Occidental College for the coming season. Coach Clark played major league ball for twelve years. After that he coached prep, college, and professional teams for nineteen years. He was mentor at Oregon Agricultural College two seasons and at Occidental in '11 and '12 when he turned out a humdinger of a team.

He is regarded as the best man to handle college prospects and green material because he has had plenty of experience with teams of that kind as well as the educational of a professional. Coach Clark has the patience to work and develop teams out of raw recruits. The baseball season opens for the Tigers with practice February 15.

CASABA QUINTET IN CRUCIAL TILT

Game With South Pasadena to Settle Leadership in Central League

Determined to hold their lead in the Central league, the Glendale 130-pound basketball team invades South Pasadena this afternoon to battle the Tiger Cubs. Although Glendale defeated Alhambra, and the latter won over the South Pasadena quintet, the fact that the locals will be playing on the enemy's court instead of their own, should tend to wipe any over-confidence.

By virtue of their two victories so far, the Baby Dynamiters are topping the rest of the schools in the Central league. If they are triumphant in today's fracas, chances for the league championship are good.

Lyle McAllister, captain and stellar guard on the midgets, will perform for the last time today, as he graduates Friday. Although his loss will be felt keenly, Coach Butterfield has in either Heideman or C. Thompson players who can fill Mac's place in a rip-snorting manner. Elmer Muff, McAllister's running mate, will head the team for the remainder of the season.

The probable line-up for this afternoon's game will be: Lovell and Stearman, forwards; Neel, center; McAllister and Muff, guards.

Yankee Hockey Team Shuts Out British

CHAMONIX, France, Jan. 31.—The American hockey team which has swept everything before it in the Olympic winter sports, scored its most satisfying victory in completely outclassing Great Britain, 11 to 0. The Yankees amazed the crowd with their tremendous speed at the outset, but seemed to lose their punch in the second period, the let-down being due to lack of training.

Basketeers Star Northern Invasion

The Occidental college varsity and freshman basketball squads will leave tomorrow morning on their ten-day northern trip up to Stockton and return via San Francisco. Eight games are scheduled with the leading Y. M. C. A. and American Legion fives. In the eight preliminary games the frosh will tackle the fastest prep melon tossers en route.

Due to the refusal of both Pomona and Redlands to postpone their conference games with the Tigers, Coach Nichols will have to divide his varsity team, leaving half of the men here to play Pomona in the Franklin gym Saturday evening, February 2. They will leave Sunday and join the party at Fresno. Then on the following Thursday the men on the varsity who left first will return early and meet Redlands February 9 at Redlands. It was impossible to make a northern tour at any other time.

Coach Nichols is taking twelve varsity players and Coach Oat Smith of the peagreeners will look after ten yearlings. The varsity men who make the trip are Wagner, Ridderhoff, Ebers, Bennetts, Stoller, Johnson, Chandler, McInnis, Sackett, Hazeltine, Morrow and Forden. The frosh are Archer, Mishkin, Godett, Hammersley, Randall, Gregory, Neely, McCunn, C. Black and H. Black.

George Forden, manager of the basketball team, has been working ever since the beginning of the college year lining up this invasion of the north, and some snappy games are called for.

Track Stars Training for February 9 Meet

The Occidental college interclass track meet, which was postponed last Saturday because of final exams, is now scheduled for February 9 on Patterson field. This delay will give all the aspirants a chance to improve and get in better condition. The meet is looked forward to by all the classes. The seniors have the edge, with the lowly sophs ready to give them plenty of competition.

Oxy's championship track team of last season will perform, each man competing for his respective class. Such stars as Spangler, Bradshaw, Goodenough, Condit, Fulton, Shoaf, Ridderhoff, Pursel, Cresswell, Argue, Powers, Ellsworth, Morey, Montgomery, Wheeler, Marrow, Wall and Jack Stevens will take part.

All Round Star Back in Tiger Cage Squad

Jimmy Norton, former Occidental athlete who has been out of college for a semester, has registered for the coming term which starts February 4. Jim Norton played first string quarter last season on the varsity football team. He was standing guard on the varsity basketball team, and played outfielder on the baseball team.

The stock exchange on athletic bonds at Oxy has risen and the Tigers will be greatly aided by the return of Norton. He will be elegible for both basketball and baseball. Already he is on the casaba squad and will probably start in the Redlands game.

Walter Christie May Coach Olympic Team

BERKELEY, Jan. 31.—The name of Walter Christie, track coach of the University of California for the past twenty-one years, is being considered by the committee that selects the coaches for the Olympic team that will represent the United States in Paris this year.

Two or three track coaches will be taken, and, due to the fine record which the Blue and Gold squads have made in the east in competition with the crack universities there, it is probable that he will be given a chance to go abroad, if he so desires.

COMMENT That's All

Three Incidents, One Moral
Crime Commission Row
L. A. Savors of Bossism
Homes for Workers Needed

—By Gil A. Cowan—

Three sensational items in the morning's papers, more or less unworthy of comment, but here goes:

First, staid Pomona learns that forty-seven well-known residents, some young and some not so young, have been engaging in "strip poker" parties recently.

Second, members of the Inglewood Lions' club returned home from their club luncheon yesterday noon in barrels—and they are pictured without so much as a bathing suit to keep the sunshine from their smiles. Only a few staves on barrels, while their clothes were turned over to disabled veterans.

Third, at Universal City, we read of Lady Godiva being seriously injured when she fell off the proverbial white horse. The latter, it was said, was frightened by the lights, and we cannot doubt the word of any publicity man.

There we have three instances of disrobing in which the parties are alleged to have come to grief.

Several of the Pomona young people are in court; the Lions' club members fled to their homes in closed automobiles when they couldn't drive the machines with the barrels in the way; and the moving picture actress who played Godiva is in the hospital.

Now for the moral, if one may be drawn. Men learned in the army that there is nothing embarrassing to shedding their raiment, for physical inspections were quite common. Clothes are not intended so much to hide the human body, as to protect it from the elements.

The athlete, the swimmer, the stage performer soon find that the less worn the more natural they act. And there is nothing quite so inspiring as watching hurdlers, high divers, or artistic dancers. Likewise, there is nothing quite so ludicrous as seeing fat old porpoises floating about in the ocean's brine.

If the children could be taught, from the earliest age, that the body is a thing of beauty, that its development is paramount even to intellectual education, that there is nothing immodest in a proper display of physical charms, we would not be reading so much about the Pomona people and others.

Truth is, prudery promotes the sensual. Which is not so good.

For some days fur has been flying in Los Angeles over the activities of the so-called Crime Commission, a very estimable group of newspaper editors and others, who are banded together to minimize criminality. Whether or no they are successful remains to be seen, for, at present, Los Angeles is no less lawless than it was a year ago, if we are to believe the reports in these editors' newspapers.

No doubt it is useless for an outsider to comment on the subject, but we believe we hold the key to the situation. The personnel of the Crime Commission might be improved in one or two instances and its chairman might take a little advice given us once upon a time by a yery capabie executive, when he said:

"A little bit of sugar catches more flies than a whole quart of vinegar."

Also, if the Crime Commission is to continue its course, there is no question but what it should recede from the position of dictator of public policy. For the present it savors of bossism, which is not countenanced by Americans. And Los Angeles has had enough of that, such as it has been.

We might slyly suggest that, if certain members of the Crime Commission actually desire to remove the cause of robbery, graft, corruption and immorality, they should pay the rank and file of the employes of their newspapers such salaries as respectable people can live on. Some of the bankers and manufacturers in southern California would do well to think along similar lines, so that honesty will have its reward.

We talk too much about climate in California—the weather, the beautiful weather—and not enough of the welfare of the thousands and thousands who come to this favored land of ours.

If progress is to be made along industrial lines the people who come here must be made content. We need homes for the workers, which are NOT being built. What chance has the ordinary salaried man to buy a place? Four or five rooms cost a thousand dollars a room, or more. Interest on mortgages is 8 per cent, with banks advising against building on modest savings accounts, the writer is told. Rents are ranging here from 30 to 50 per cent of the monthly pay of the ordinary man. And that isn't all, but enough.

There is no doubt about our prosperity, but, instead of taking columns of space to defend the Crime Commission, or expose it, the newspaper publishers of this vicinity might do well to give the civic associations something to think about in the way of providing for the populace who are unable to provide for themselves.

And that's that.

LISTING SERVICE TO START FRIDAY

Glendale Realty Board Puts Over Forward Step For Quick Sales

The Glendale Realty Board proved its worth in the recent sewer campaign, showing clearly that it has the best interests of the city at heart. The board is made up of so many of the representative real estate brokers in Glendale, and has a record so fine, as an organization, that any movement sponsored by this body will be a movement admittedly for the benefit of this city.

In line with the board's past performances for Glendale's benefit is the "Listing Service," according to directors of the organization. This service is just being started, and will go into effect tomorrow. It will have the effect of a wonderful educational course for the board members in teaching the value of co-operation, and will also furnish assistance of vast importance to both buyers and sellers.

Standardizes Price

One of the most valuable features in this "service" is the standardization of price. The realtor is presumed to know values, but in a city like ours, where property sells so readily, it is natural for the seller to want the best price he can get. Under the "listing service" a property will not be accepted for the "Service" unless it is properly priced. For it is self-evident that any "Listing Service" will in itself not sell a property. Although it is placed before a multitude of prospective buyers, it will not sell unless the price is right and fair—right to the buyer as well as the seller—so the seller will have a fair return, and still the buyer will feel he has a good value.

Dealer Pays Listing

Under the "Listing Service" the realtor pays a fee to the Board for the "Service," and he is not going to pay this unless he feels the price is such that the property will sell. In this way the buyer will know that what is offered on the "Service" is rightly priced, and always one and the same price in all offices using this "service." At present the "Service" is offered by 114 realtors and their 250 salesmen. This is a most important point andis always kept uppermost.

Property owners should read the announcements from day to day, and become familiar with the new "Service," for when it becomes fully understood, it will be used generally, and the Glendale Realty Board is to be congratulated on this forward step.

WEBB & CO. ADD MEN'S, BOYS' DEPT.

Additional Buying Power Is Given Big Organization With Two Stores

In announcing that he has opened a men's and boys' furnishings department at H. S. Webb & Company, 139 North Brand boulevard, H. S. Webb states that it is the result of a growing demand on the part of customers to purchase these articles at the department store and not necessarily visit the Men's shop conducted by the same organization at 105 South Brand boulevard.

"It was not to divert trade away from our South Brand shop that we have opened the new department in our main store," says Mr. Webb, "but to further exemplify our motto of bigger and better service. Feeling that in many instances we were causing customers a considerable inconvenience in sending them to the other store, we resolved to put in a full line of men's and boys' things, right here on North Brand.

More Buying Power

"The added buying power that will come with the maintenance of two such departments in our organization will react to the advantage of our customers, whom we aim at all times to give the utmost of service."

New fixtures and showcases have been installed in the new department, which is on the main floor of the Webb store, and a full line of standard, nationally advertised goods has been put in. Mr. Webb has made Jack Schaffer manager of the department.

George Doran continues as manager of the Men's shop on South Brand boulevard.

Average freight car is being loaded or unloaded during a total of 14 weeks out of each year.

Bishop Deprecates Church Controversy

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 31.—Urging that the people be not disturbed by "the notoriety and sensational exploitation of these differences in our churches," Bishop William Ford Nichols, bishop of California, gave attention to the present doctrinal disturbances in the Episcopal church in his annual address to the seventy-fourth convention of the diocese which opened here late yesterday. "Whatever fundamentalism may or may not mean to its narrower devotees or its critics," he said, "I suppose all can agree that, as recorded at the birth of our Lord, a valid gospel of it was all implied in the good tidings to all people of a 'Savior which is Christ the Lord.'"

Workmen Ape Their Foremen and Bosses

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 31.—William J. Bryan received a jolt from the industrial accident commission in its quarterly report, just issued in which it is stated that "Human beings retain many of the characteristics of the monkey, as evidenced by the fact that workmen prefer to imitate the boss and accept the foreman's practice as right, rather than read the safety orders posted before them."

Because of this tendency of workers to ape their superiors, the commission points out it is imperative that the foremen carefully follow safety regulations.
